Where Is Karl Thomas?

No Word On Intrepid Atlantic Balloonist

By BERNARD COHEN
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "We think he is still airborne," a ground support crew member said despite many hours without word from the 90-foot helium balloon that Karl Thomas hoped would float him to Paris. "He is trying to fly it using dead reckoning and his own instincts," crew member Gary Johnson said late Sunday night. "We are confident he has enough helium and everybody here has enough experience with him to know he never panics and always keeps his cool," Johnson said of the 27-year-old Thomas.

Johnson spoke from the flight's communications center in a 48th-floor luxury apartment overlooking the East River.

Ground crew members said direct contact with the balloon through a high-frequency signal was lost immediately after Thomas lifted off from the Lakehurst, N.J., Naval Air Station on Friday night.

The Oakland Press said businessman Gary Moore of Pontiac, one of the investors in the balloon project, told it this morning that the pilot of a private plane reported spotting the balloon at 10 p.m. Sunday, about 18 hours after indirect contact with the balloon was lost.

The pilot reportedly said the balloon had passed through a thundersquall area. He said he did not know then that the balloon's radio was out and did not get a fix on its exact location.

There was no official confirmation from the flight's communication center of the report.

The ground crew blamed a malfunctioning antenna for the break in communications. The failure also cost Thomas the use of his main navigational system, forcing him to rely on a sextant.

Indirect contact with Thomas through aircraft flying in the vicinity of the balloon was maintained until about 4 a.m. Sunday. At its expected altitude of 3,500 feet, the balloon would have to be within 50 miles of a plane to make contact through the backup system.

The ground crew said they did not know whether the break in communications meant the balloon had lost its backup radio system or whether it just was not within range of aircraft and ships.

In his next-to-last communication early Sunday, Thomas told an airplane pilot he was dropping some ballast to climb up over a storm. His last transmission an hour later gave no hint of having any problems.

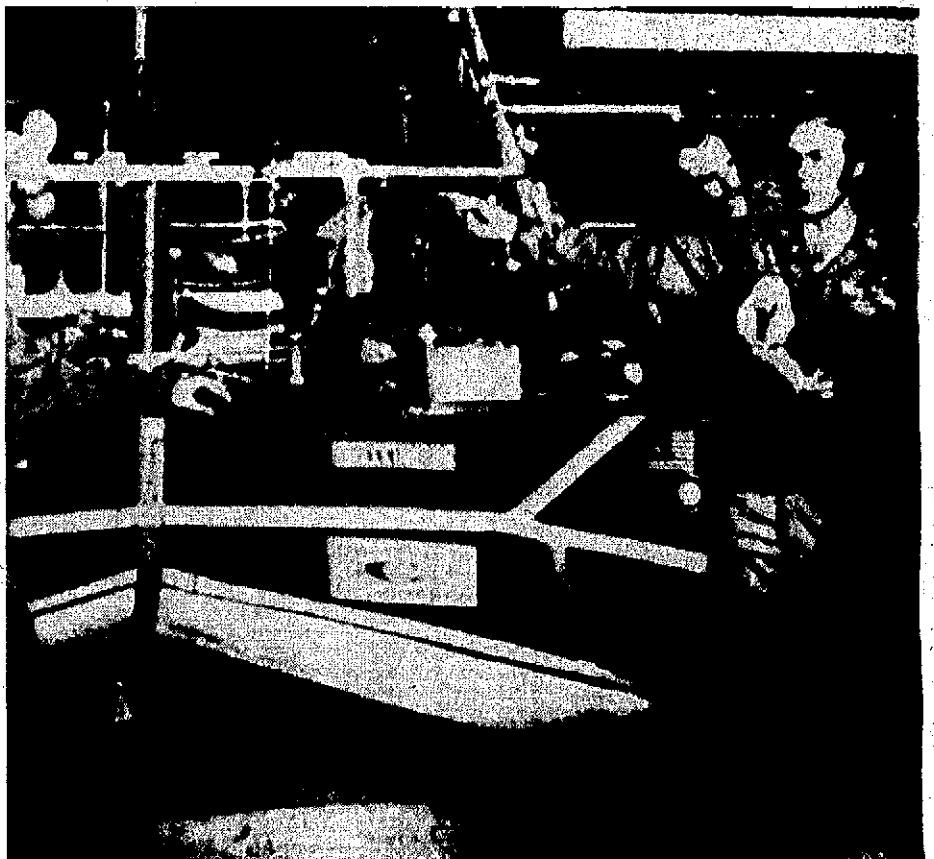

The crew estimated that Thomas's position on Sunday night should have been 800 miles due east of Norfolk, Va., and 300 miles south and slightly east of Halifax, Canada.

The weather in the area was reported cloudy with scattered showers.

The U.S. Coast Guard has issued a radio alert asking all ships in the area to monitor an emergency radio frequency for word from Thomas, according to Johnson.

The crew said the best hope of re-establishing communication with the red, white and blue balloon appeared to lie with two ships and three scheduled airline flights traveling a course similar to the balloon's flight pattern.

Thomas, an experienced pilot from Troy, Mich., planned to follow the path Charles Lindbergh took across the Atlantic in 1927 in his single-engine "Spirit of St. Louis." Thomas has called his balloon the "Spirit of '76" and is trying to become the first person to fly a balloon across the Atlantic.

FINAL INSTRUCTIONS: Balloonist Karl Thomas, 27, of Troy, Mich., points Friday night as he tells ground crew members how to remove his balloon from hangar at Lakehurst, N.J. Thomas, attempting to be the first to cross the Atlantic ocean in a balloon, was last heard from early Sunday. (AP Wirephoto)

Portuguese Elect Anti-Red President

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — Gen. Antonio Ramalho Eanes, the army commander who foiled the attempted leftist coup last fall, has been elected president of Portugal by a 2 to 1 margin.

"Conditions finally exist for Portugal to construct a democracy," the stern-faced, 42-year-old soldier said in a televised victory message early today. Nearly complete unofficial returns gave him 61.41 per cent of the vote in Portugal's first free presidential election in half a century.

The outcome was expected since Eanes, a political centrist and law-and-order man, was endorsed by the three antiCommunist parties that got 80 per cent of the vote in the legislative elections in April.

Ultra-leftist Maj. Otejo Surralva de Carvalho ran second with 16.6 per cent of the vote. Much of his support came from the Communist party, whose candidate, Oelavio Pinto, ran last with only 7.8 per cent.

"The Communist party is the big loser here," said Socialist party leader Mario Soares, who is slated to become premier and is committed to excluding the Communists from the government for the first time since the military revolution two years ago.

Finishing third in the voting with 14.3 percent was Premier Jose Pinheiro de Azevedo, who suffered a serious heart attack last week.

The turnout was 75.35 per cent of the 6.4 million registered voters.

Eanes is to take office July 5 for a five-year term. He has said he would name Soares premier since the Socialists ran first in the legislative elections with 34 per cent of the vote.

Soares insisted before the election that he would form a minority government and would not open his cabinet to the moderate Popular Democrats or the conservative Social Democratic Center. But he backed off a bit Sunday, saying he would hold "discussions and consultation with the other parties."

Helen Ford Says She Plans To Sue

Mrs. Helen Ford, Benton Harbor city commissioner and executive director of Berrien County Action, indicated over the weekend she would file a $1 million suit against the Herald-Palladium and a $100,000 suit against Benton Harbor City Manager James Peoples, Jr.

In a mailgram sent to news outlets in the area, she said "lies" printed by the Herald-Palladium and "harassment and intimidation" by the city manager have jeopardized her livelihood and professional status, and disrupted the tranquility of her family life.

She said she has become a victim of threatening telephone calls, harassment and intimidation on her job, threats of violence with intent to do great bodily harm, and libel and slander.

Her mailgram to the news media followed a report in this newspaper Saturday that she had been at a Berrien County Action picnic Friday at Niles, and that City Manager Peoples had attempted to contact her there to try to get her to attend a meeting of the short-handed city commission.

"I was at my job on Friday, June 25, 1976, and attended my Berrien County Action picnic as part of my official duties as executive director of this agency," Mrs. Ford said in her mailgram. "Whether a picnic or a meeting, Berrien County Action is my job and livelihood and it is my first duty to be on my job wherever it may be. Harassment on my job by anyone will not be tolerated."

Responding to inquiries from other news outlets about Mrs. Ford's charges, Herald-Palladium Publisher Willard J. Banyon this morning said:

"We've engaged only in the day to day business of printing the news. We have to cover it all: good, bad or indifferent. If somebody takes offense at an accurate report and wants to go to court, we can't stop them."

Meanwhile, former Benton Harbor Mayor Charles Joseph, who was recalled from office in May along with three other commission members, said in a mailgram received here this morning that a "National Committee to Free Benton Harbor, Michigan" was formed in Chicago Sunday.

"The atmosphere of vindictive and harsh reprisal for (his) proposing decent housing for blacks, for investigating racial discrimination, and for exposing corruption by local officials, has generated a climate ripe for riot or violence against persons or property in my city," he said he told a meeting at the Gold Coast Boyar club in Chicago.

The mailgram also covered a series of other charges.

Troopers Hunting Motive In South Haven Shooting

By TOM RENNER
South Haven Correspondent

SOUTH HAVEN — State police here are attempting to determine if there is a link between the shooting of a rural South Haven man early today and a two-week-old strike at the South Haven Coil company here.

Troopers said George Doroff, 26, route 5, South Haven, reported he was shot in the right thigh at approximately 4:20 a.m. today as he investigated earlier gunshots outside his home.

Troopers said Doroff's mother, Mary, works at South Haven Coil company, but has not participated in the strike by members of the United Furniture Workers of America.

Van Buren Circuit Judge Meyer Warshawsky last Friday issued a temporary injunction against the union after South Haven Coil complained that picketing activities were hampering attempts to continue production by non-striking employees.

Doroff was released after treatment at South Haven Community hospital for a bullet wound to the right thigh.

Doroff said he, a brother and his mother were awakened by the sound of gunshots at their home on 103rd avenue, Cusco township, shortly after 4 a.m. today.

According to police, Doroff told them he was shot when a car drove by while he and his brother were outside investigating. He said five shots were fired.

Doroff was carrying a .22 caliber rifle at the time, police said. Doroff told police he and his brother, Aaron, had been outside about 10 minutes when the car came. Troopers said they found 22-caliber casings at the scene.

Kitten Rescue Fails; Girl, 4, Burned

NILES — A four-year-old girl was reported in good condition this morning at Pawling hospital here where she was being treated for burns suffered Sunday morning when she ran back into her flaming house to save the family kitten. The girl, Dawn Boettcher, is the foster child of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Butts, whose home at 2572 Dover street, near Barron lake east of Niles in Cass county, was destroyed by fire about 5 a.m. Sunday, according to Cass sheriff's deputies. According to Butts, the girl had attempted to save the family's eight-week-old kitten which only minutes earlier had jumped into bed and awakened him in time to rush his family from the blazing house.

When awakened by the kitten's furious scratching, Butts smelled the smoke and then evacuated his wife, two children and two foster children through a bedroom window, he said.

Once outside, they realized the kitten had been forgotten, Butts said, and the girl ran back into the one-story house through a basement door. Her foster mother, Verlene, 42, pursued her and rescued her, Butts said. The girl suffered burns on her feet and a hand, and Mrs. Butts was treated and released for burns to her shoulder, arm and back. The kitten apparently perished in the blaze, Butts said. Howard township firemen said the blaze is believed to have started in an overstuffed chair in the living room, probably from a smoldering cigarette butt. Damage was estimated at about $30,000.

Interesting Timing In A Labor Debate

Last week the platform designers for the Democratic party adopted a plank calling for bringing state and local governmental employees under the National Labor Relations Act.

A bill to the same effect has been in a holding position in Congress for several months.

It is a pet project with the AFL-CIO, some of whose affiliates already number several hundred thousand of the 3.4 million local payrollers in its membership.

If the NLRA should be extended to those employees they would automatically attain bargaining authority and the right to strike.

The unions are pushing for the inclusion on the argument that to deny state and local personnel the same rights held by those working in private employment leaves the former in the position of second class citizens.

State and local hiring authorities fight the proposal, citing the very practical reason they have enough trouble in finding the money to meet their payrolls and setting reasonable work standards without having an employee strike further upset the apple cart.

A 15-member subcommittee, chaired by Michael K. Dukakis, the Massachusetts governor, wrote the plank.

Dukakis arrived home following the platform's adoption only hours before 20,000 Massachusetts state employees went on strike.

They returned to work a few days later rather than risk imposition of a $250,000 daily fine against their union for persisting in what a federal district court perceived to be an illegal walkout. The sore point in the dispute, more money vs. how can financially strapped Massachusetts find it, however, remains unsettled.

Last Thursday the U.S. Supreme Court, in a widely split 5-4 decision, may have scuttled the bill in Congress.

The majority ruled that a 1974 statute bringing state and local employees under federal minimum wage standards is an unconstitutional intrusion by the U.S. into the states' affairs.

Within certain bounds, the majority reasoned, the Constitution guarantees the states the right to manage their internal operations.

The minority opinion said the majority position flirts with the danger facing the Court 40 years ago when FDR unsuccessfully tried to enlarge its membership and pack it with appointees agreeable to his New Deal plans. While the judiciary escaped that radical surgery, the minority justices noted that the Court thereafter expressed more favor with Roosevelt's legislative ventures.

Unless the present Court's membership or thinking process should alter, presumably the NLRA proposal would also be set aside as disruptive to our federal system of government.

Probably the AFL-CIO may try to forsake a frontal attack with a flanking maneuver by pressing Congress to make federal grants to the states and local governments conditional upon submitting themselves to NLRA control.

If that development or some other play surfaces, it will be interesting to see how Governor Dukakis responds.

Within hours he learned first hand the harsh difference between philosophy and reality in labor-management matters.

Disasters Put Heavy Burden On Red Cross

Some 26,000 American families have suffered losses during the last four weeks as a siege of natural disasters wrought havoc in eight states, the island of Guam and other U.S. Trust Territories in the Pacific, the American Red Cross reported last week.

Red Cross disaster specialists rushed to the stricken areas and thousands of local volunteers in Idaho, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Illinois, Minnesota, Indiana, Iowa and Texas and in the Pacific continue to provide emergency services to families hit by the floods, tornadoes and killer storms that have plagued the nation since the end of May.

The spate of catastrophes forced the Red Cross to launch a $10 million special disaster fund campaign to enable the organization to handle its relief commitments to victims of these and any other disasters.

Barbara Cooke, executive director of the Berrien County chapter of Red Cross, describes the need for contributions to the emergency fund as "urgent."

National Red Cross reported even before last week that it had been hit by an unprecedented $33 million in disaster relief commitments or expenditures for the current fiscal year. Red Cross says this is the most expensive outlay in its 95 years of providing emergency relief to disaster victims.

Berrien Red Cross Director Cooke says the local chapter is the place to send contributions to the $10 million emergency fund. The address is 409 Main street, St. Joseph, Mich. 49085.

The money all goes right to a special fund, says Director Cooke. The local chapter and national office receive nothing. Every cent of the special fund is spent on direct aid to disaster victims.

A contribution sounds like a good idea. As Director Cooke says, "This provides us to emphasize once more that — heaven forbid — should Berrien County be involved in a disaster, we would be able to receive the same quality attention and monies from our parent organization."

THANKS GOD ON BICENTENNIAL

Editor,
I want to take this opportunity to say, "Happy 200th Birthday, America." I want to celebrate this occasion by giving thanks unto God for the freedom we have of self government. In this country, regardless if we are a citizen or not we have the right to worship God however our conscience dictates. Let us not as a people put God out of our hearts and our country.

As we lift up our flag with stars and stripes of red, white and blue let us lift up God's standard of righteousness, his Ten Commandments, that the righteousness of the law might be fulfilled in us as it was in Jesus, who kept his father's commandments. (John 15:10). Let us remember that righteousness (doing God's commandments) exalteth a nation but sin is a reproach to any people (Prov. 14:13), and sin is the transgression of that law (1 John 3:4) and sin when it is finished bringeth forth death (James 1:15).

Whenever a people desire to worship God he will lead them. It was this desire of freedom to worship God that led our forefathers to these shores 200 years ago and it was God who led them as he led Israel to the land of Canaan. Someone once said, "We have nothing to fear except we forget how God has led us in the past." Are we forgetting?

I thank God for America and thank America for this freedom we still have to worship God and his son Jesus Christ whom He has sent.

CORRECTION WASN'T ENOUGH, SHE SAYS

Editor,
In The Herald-Palladium, dated Friday, June 18th, in the women's section you had an article headed "YMCA Convention June 21-25". May I bring to your attention that you made a gross error. It should have read "YWCA....."

The "W" does make a difference. You noted that in your June 22 correction. However, I feel that small article comes nowhere near correcting the damage done.

Not only is the YW a continuing autonomous women's movement serving women in all racial groups, but the YW serves our community with many needed programs (such as: the motor perceptual development summer program for children with learning disabilities, cardio pulmonary resuscitation workshops, and day camp exploration for youth, just to name a few).

The YWCA is an important function on a national level. YWCA's from all over the USA will be represented with their delegates. Being "next door" to convention headquarters at Notre Dame, our St. Joseph/Benton Harbor YW has a great opportunity to meet delegates and make decisions affecting hundreds of YWCA's across our country.

I sincerely hope that the YWCA gets the respect and coverage that it deserves in the future.

LENIENCY FOR DRUNK DRIVERS IS BLASTED

Editor,
In reference to an article in The Herald-Palladium on leniency. Those idiotic nit-wit state representatives approved a bill allowing judges to be more lenient in sentencing

Do You REMEMBER?

— 10 Years Ago —

New officers were installed for the Benton Harbor Lions club at a Ladies Night and installation party held Thursday at Luman's at Holiday Inn. Victor Eichenbaum was announced as the Lion of the Year for outstanding community service. District Governor Harold Smith of Edwardsburg conducted the installation in which Kurt K. Kuhnle assumed the office of president. Kuhnle succeeds David L. Richards.

— 25 Years Ago —

Trucks and bulldozers were busy today filling and grading the Terminal Island site for the twin cities' new sewage disposal plant. The Weisbach corporation of Philadelphia moved in this week to start work in its $1,700,000 construction contract phase on the heels of an announcement that the National Production Authority had granted permission to buy the hundreds of tons of steel that will go into the plant.

— 50 Years Ago —

The bells of Millburg rang in unison with the old Liberty bell in Philadelphia and hundreds of other bells in cities in every state in the union at exactly 11 minutes past 11 this morning to commemorate the Sesqui-centennial anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence. Hundreds, hearing the bells, paused in their labor in field, factory, and home to contemplate one of the greatest events in the world's history, the signing of that famous document, America's Declaration of Independence, by a small but loyal group of men gathered in the old state house in Philadelphia so many years ago.

The board of county supervisors, convening for the June session this morning, voted to consider a move to establish a tri-county tuberculosis sanatorium.

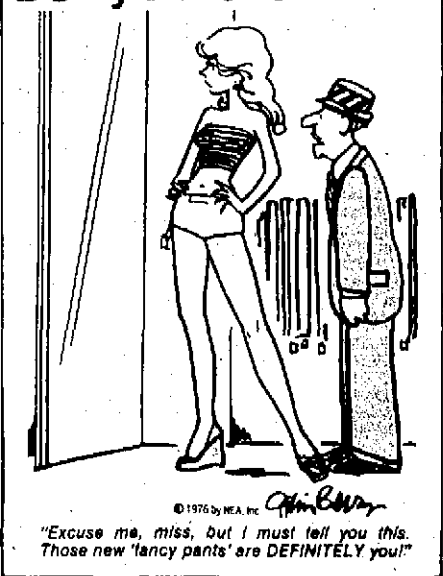

Wednesday evening, while riding on Main street in Benton Harbor, the bicycle of Harry Maize suddenly parted in the middle, letting the young man fall to the pavement. Harry picked himself up and walked away amid the laughter of his friends.

Last evening a large crowd stood in front of the Baltimore drug store, Benton Harbor, for three hours, watching the Japanese dance performance.

Current walks are being laid on Cullax avenue and Michigan street.

Former Sheriff Ferguson has purchased the Hartford brick and the factory. Before he was elected sheriff five years ago Mr. Ferguson was engaged in the manufacture of brick in Benton Harbor in partnership with Mr. McCord.

The Bad Guys Are Remembered

WASHINGTON — Presumably you've heard the one about Elizabeth Ray when she was still, oh, in the employment of foul-tempered Wayne Hays. She went to the doctor one day and he asked her if she had awakened grumpy that morning. "No," she replied, "I let him go on sleeping."

You haven't heard? Strange. One guesses by now that almost everything is known about America's sweetheart. They are even dragging out the old Barry Goldwater gag: "Any man would be foolish to mess with his secretary. If it's somebody else's secretary, fine."

It is, unfortunately, too much to expect the nation to quietly ignore Liz Ray, or to relegate her with the other tramps to the flop houses on the dark side of familiarity. Since crime pays, we are obligated to reward her with fame and fortune. While the object of her affections nearly dies in disgrace from an overdose of sleeping pills, she basks in the happy hoo ha. Skin magazines throw money at her, television has gotten more cleavage than footage, even her dear mother, who judiciously declines precise identification, has been asked to contribute notes to the saga of the Bicen-tennial belle.

Remember Lt. William Calley? According to the verdict of the court he was responsible for the murder of no fewer than 22 helpless Vietnamese civilians. The news of this naturally made him the stuff of legend in the U.S. True, he served a few brief months in prison, but today people still send him small contributions through the mails.

And then there is Clifford Irving. He wrote a phony book about Howard Hughes some years ago, accepting nearly a half million dollars for it under decidedly illegal pretenses.

Irving is now one of America's more successful authors. His book is being turned into a film extravaganza. He will next year host a television special concerned with the "World's Greatest Hoaxes." What's more, he has won the right to have his "Howard Hughes" account published.

Psychologists can explain this absurdity of the celebrity crook, no doubt. We need our villains, as Karl Menninger says, not only as scapegoats but as objects to carry out the awful activities that excite and stimulate us. Hence we remember John Dillinger more than Melvin Purvis. Spiro Agnew will be in the Sunday supplements when Nelson Rockefeller is just a name on the Albany, N.Y., mail. If A. Hiller were alive today in Manhattan he would need a business manager.

I recall once in Salt Lake City when an assignment necessitated my living with two college coeds and a rehabilitated alcoholic. It was perfectly innocent, more the pity, but at first the girls did not even want to be in the same room with the old runny. Then he told us he was not simply a boozier, but a boozier of note, a member of the gang that pulled the Brink's armored car robbery in Boston. Immediately the girls' attitude toward him changed. And from there on he couldn't shake them. They were enthralled, starstruck, in absolute awe.

The bum wasn't a Brink's robber, of course. He used that lie to convert himself from nobody to somebody. He hadn't said he was a former presidential aide, or a former astronaut. Ironically, and ominously, he knew he could get more attention by being a former thief.

So it goes in the Union. There is no one so bad, too foul that he can't be popular. John Dean is going to report on politics this summer for a magazine. And a Washington who dictates to all ears about morality.

Scandals May Produce Good

WASHINGTON — Some good may yet come of the Capitol Hill sex scandals, although it takes something of a Pollyanna attitude to think so.

The most obvious change may be in reform of the way the House of Representatives handles its own daily internal affairs (no pun intended), by establishing businesslike procedures which will for the first time make members accountable to the public for their expenditures.

But congressional reforms in the past have tended merely to replace one set of abuses with another. When a dictatorial speaker was stripped of his powers, for instance, committee chairmen quickly moved in to exercise their own tyrannies.

And some of the changes proposed are more cosmetic than cleansing; it will do little to improve congressional integrity, for instance, to take away the Speaker's immunity. Women, who are struggling in every profession to shake the snide male attitude that their sex precludes their ability to hold anything but inferior jobs, have had a particularly rough time of it on Capitol Hill. But some male employees too are now saying, at least privately, that some congressmen are as notorious for expecting them to compromise themselves as others are where women are concerned.

The basic trouble is that each congressman has been free to run his own fiefdom as he pleased, with no particular rules of conduct such as govern most of the rest of us. But the more such exploitation is exposed, the less Congress can get by with it. More employees will expect professional standards and some degree of job security, and more and more of them will get these as work conditions.

The raucous quips now making the rounds of Capitol Hill are aimed more often at making fun of women staff members than of the old goats who seek to buy illicit sex. Female employees are outraged, insulted and worried that male employers will now fail to promote them or give them salary raises out of fear of unfair gossip.

A brief flash of this cruel attitude surfaced last week, when a senior staff professional for the Senate Appropriations Committee wrote to Michael Balzano, head of Action, the agency which runs the Peace Corps and other programs, and asked rudely: "Is it true" that Balzano planned to include several female employees on an upcoming European trip. The staffer, Harley Dirks, also demanded to know what functions they would perform.

The agency, to put it mildly, was rocked. Balzano angrily replied that it was an "insinuating question" and reflected a "leering attitude" which was a "smear" against the personal and professional conduct of both male and female employees. The trip in question was to an international conference, partly sponsored by Action, and all seven of the females to make the trip are qualified professionals who have been involved in key aspects of the session's planning.

Local Officials May Need Help In Flu Program

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Public health officials who will administer the swine flu vaccine say they need more federal help and may ask for voluntary donations to pay for the nationwide immunization program.

Dr. J. Brett Lazar, president of the National Association of County Health Officials, said public health doctors throughout the country appear to support the program but are concerned about the cost in manpower and money.

Lakeshore Liberty Days Festival Events Outlined

Final preparations have been made by committee members for the various activities to be held during Lakeshore area's Liberty Days festival, July 3-4. Mrs. Peter (Carol) Petrus, program coordinator, has announced the following schedule of events and the committee chairmen.

SATURDAY, JULY 3:
Arts and crafts show, sponsored by the Lakeshore Art Guild, Mrs. Thomas Brugman, chairman beginning at 9 a.m.

Tennis playoffs, Dennis Knola and Richard Berry, co-chairmen, beginning at 9 a.m.

Fun pet show, with Mrs. Robert (Sue) Vandermolen as chairman, 10-11:30 a.m. no pre-registration is required for the show which is open to all Lakeshore district children and their small pets.

Book sale, sponsored by Lincoln township public library, beginning at 10 a.m. Persons wishing to donate books and other related items may bring them to the library anytime prior to the sale. The sale will replace the Fall Recycle day, sponsored by Lincoln Friends of the Library.

Special guest and performers will begin appearances at 11 a.m. Included will be a remote control air show, followed by puppet shows, the Sing-a-Lings, Southwestern Gymnats, Lakeshore Summer Theater, square dancers and Thimbles the Clown. Mrs. Dennis (Sherry) Knola and Mrs. Robin (Carol) Campbell are co-chairmen.

Booth and competitive games for all ages will begin at noon and will be sponsored by Psi Jota Xi sorority and Stepping Stones Child Study club.

Food concessions will be open throughout the day under the direction of Larry Wozniak. Mrs. Kenneth (LarAnn) Zielke is chairman of materials.

All the above activities will be held on Lincoln township grounds, located behind the library at John Beers and Moosevelt roads and will end at 4 p.m.

An adult street dance, featuring The Knights, will be held from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. at the Stevensville village parking lot, located behind Graus' supermarket. Mr. and Mrs. Dan (Pam) Luckner are co-chairmen of the dance.

SUNDAY, JULY 4:
Activities will begin at 3 p.m. with the Kiddies parade to be held on St. Joseph avenue, Stevensville. Sponsoring the event will be Lincoln Friends of the Library with Mrs. Kenneth Rodda and Mrs. William Wroblewski as co-chairmen.

Concluding the two-day festivities will be the presentation of the Hickory Creek Blue Grass band, St. Joseph, sponsored by several Baroda businessmen. Music will begin at 7:30 p.m. at the Baroda baseball field, Third street, and will be followed by a fireworks display, sponsored by Baroda Fire department, John Harner and Charles Trapp, co-chairman.

HOUSE MOVER: Home of Mrs. Essie Ray, 370 Walnut street, Benton township, was moved from foundation when auto crashed into structure about 8:40 p.m. Saturday, according to township Patrolmen Don Hartman and Kim Fowler. Mrs. Ray was reported inside, but uninjured. Officers said driver Norman R. Carlton, 32, 415 1/2 North Fair avenue, Benton Harbor, and passenger James L. Clark, 17, 1108 Concord, Benton township, were slightly injured, but not hospitalized. Carlton was booked on charge of being drunk and disorderly and also was issued ticket for reckless driving, officers said. (Staff photo)

Nearly 9,000 people in Berrien County were employed during May in government jobs—including 8,000 in local government jobs that increased by 100 since April, according to the Michigan Employment Security commission.

By contrast, manufacturing jobs declined from 24,400 in May to 23,800, the MESC reports. Employment gains, up 600 to 26,800, were reported for the period in private non-manufacturing jobs, and the total employment picture in Berrien county is seen as improving. The report says, "The current 9,000 government job total is 100 above the April level and reflects scattered gains in the local government sector." During May, 500 people worked for state agencies and 400 for federal agencies, besides the 8,000 working for local governments.

MESC statistics show that overall, total employment in Berrien county has been increasing most of the past six months and at mid-May totaled 65,000. This was reported the highest since last August and 1,000 above last April.

The commission, however, also noted that unemployment edged up from 11.2 per cent in April (8,100) to 11.6 per cent in May (8,500). A labor dispute affecting some 1,700 employees of Whirlpool corporation's St. Joseph division was cited as a major factor.

Berrien's total civilian labor force was reported to be 73,500 in May, compared to 72,100 in April, a monthly gain, but well below the total force of 74,600 in May, 1975. The commission said the monthly gain was largely because of seasonal trends, plus an improved business climate.

Students Like Course Leader

Twenty-five graduating members of Lake Michigan College's Emergency Medical Technician (EMT) class recently received certificates of achievement and then promptly gave their class coordinator a plaque of appreciation.

Lloyd Phillips, of St. Joseph, course coordinator, was given the plaque by his class as a surprise gift during recent ceremonies that ended the 14-week course.

Phillips, who is also chairman of first aid training for the Berrien County Red Cross, for 35 years held management positions with Michigan Fruit Canners Inc. Prior to that, he taught science and mathematics for six years at the Fremont, Mich., high school.

The EMT course is sponsored jointly by the LMC Community Services Division and the EMT Doctors Committee of Mercy Hospital, Benton Harbor, and Memorial Hospital, St. Joseph. Eighteen area physicians participated on a voluntary basis to teach the class, the second such class to be taught at LMC.

All courses meet state requirements and provide students with an opportunity to take the National Registry examination. Students successfully completing the LMC courses receive state certification. The courses are intended primarily for ambulance crew members.

Members of the class that cited Phillips for his work on behalf of the program were: Kim Jeffery, Mark Philloft, St. Joseph; Allen Dill, James Chapin, Gust Anton, Shirley Thallas, Gilbert DuVeray,

Man Hurt By Power Nail Driver

An Indiana fence builder was injured accidentally Saturday in Stevensville, when a power nail driver he was holding drove a 4-inch nail into his left knee, reported Berrien sheriff's deputies.

Reported in good condition Sunday at St. Joseph Memorial hospital was Daniel Maris, 23, of South Bend, an employee of Calbu Fence Co.

Deputies said Maris was putting up a board fence at the home of Robert Washburn, 5503 Alpine Ridge and was stepping over the fence when the power driver struck his knee and started up. He was transported to Memorial by ambulance. The accident was reported at 10:19 a.m.

Ex-St. Joseph Mayor At Home After Surgery

Former St. Joseph Mayor Tom Sparks returned home over the weekend after undergoing surgery at the Veterans Administration hospital in Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Sparks reported that her husband was feeling fine and would return to the hospital for checkups in two weeks and again in three months.

Mr. and Mrs. Sparks live at 315 Kingley avenue, St. Joseph.

SJ Print Firm Promotes Russ

ROBERT C. RUSS

Robert C. Russ has been promoted to vice president, sales-production services, of Imperial Printing Company. It was announced today by Jeanne C. Dwan, president of the St. Joseph firm.

Russ, a long-time resident of Benton Harbor, was a partner of Twin City Printers from 1948 until his company was merged with Imperial Printing in April, 1970. He has been sales manager of Imperial Printing since October, 1970.

In his new capacity, Russ will be responsible for service reduction planning, purchasing and prime account service.

He and his wife, Donna, reside at 275 Elvern drive, Benton Harbor.

Fireworks and concerts are planned for Benton Harbor and St. Joseph on Sunday, July 4, as the Twin Cities join thousands of other communities in celebrating the nation's 200th birthday.

Because the Fourth of July holiday is on Sunday this year, the national holiday will be moved to Monday, July 5, when government offices and financial institutions will be closed.

Twin Cities post offices remind patrons that there will be no regular mail delivery, except for special delivery items, that Monday, and mail collections will be made on the Sunday schedule.

Trash pickups for Monday will be made on Tuesday in Benton Harbor and St. Joseph. Benton township said its regular Monday pickups will be made the following Monday, July 12. St. Joseph township, which contracts with a private trash hauler, said there will be normal pickups on Monday, July 5.

The Fairplain Plaza Merchants' association said because of fireworks displays planned on July 4 in both the Twin Cities, the plaza will stage its traditional fireworks display at 8:30 p.m. on Friday, July 2. The association said most of the shopping center's stores will be open both Sunday and Monday, July 4-5. K-mart, Benton Harbor, and Belco department store, M-139 near Napier, Benton township, also will be open both days. Sears said its Benton Harbor store will be open Sunday, but closed on Monday.

The fireworks displays planned for the Twin Cities will be gigantic and of the old fashioned kind, although staged by professional fireworks firms. It was reported.

Mrs. Harry (Frances) Lally is chairman of the Benton Harbor Bicentennial committee, while Mrs. Robert (Vern) VanAntwerp is chairman of the St. Joseph Bicentennial Flag committee, which planned that city's activities.

Events in St. Joseph will include two concerts, at 2:30 and 7:30 p.m. in the band shell on Bluff park. Performances will feature patriotic music by the St. Joseph Municipal band, directed by John Howard and the Monday Music chorus, directed by Mrs. Robert (Jean) Bartz.

The fireworks display will begin about 9:30 p.m. and last about an hour, it was reported. Bluff park was reported the best place to watch.

Aerial fireworks will be shot over Lake Michigan from the former Silver beach area at the foot of Broad street. Standing displays will be set off in a nearby lot, known as the Copper-Wells site.

The committee reported that the aerials will be massive, and the open rounds should be heard for eight miles.

In Benton Harbor, Mrs. Lally said the fireworks display is planned for Benton Harbor high school's Filstrip field and will follow a program, scheduled for 8 p.m.

Mrs. Lally said State Sen. Charles O. Zollar, Benton Harbor, State Rep. Ray Mittan, Niles, and all Benton Harbor officials have been invited. Mrs. Lally said live music is planned by groups yet to be determined.

The invocation will be given by Salvation Army Maj. George Collins. Mrs. Lally said Benton Harbor Band and Orchestra Parents will operate the concession stand at the field.

For the many residents who will be on the roads or staying at home, words of caution are offered by safety officials.

Robert Primley, director of the Twin Cities Area Safety Council, said home accidents are serious problems, and he cited statistics:

Primley said last year 25,000 people were killed by accidents at home — five times the 4,435 recorded battle casualties during the Revolutionary war years, 1775-83. Primley said another 3.9 million people last year suffered disabling injuries at home — nearly 1.5 million more than the total population of colonial America of 1775.

For travelers, Primley urged that driving safety be stressed on country roads, as well as freeways. He said country driving is often hazardous, because of hills, curves and visual obstructions, such as trees or brush at intersections.

Twin Cities Will Salute Bicentennial On Sunday

Primley urged owners of highway recreational vehicles to check manufacturer's recommended weight limits and stay within those limits.

For those who enjoy outdoors meals, Primley warned that cold foods should be kept cold and hot foods hot, to avoid food poisoning.

Two On Pearson Staff Registered

A. CHARLES LINDBLOM II
Architect

CHARLES K. WISNIEWSKI
Engineer

Two members of the staff of Pearson Engineering, Inc., of Benton Harbor, have been accorded professional registration, one as an engineer and the other as an architect, according to Burton H. Pearson, general manager of the firm. A. Charles Lindblom, II, a resident of Stevensville, has received his architectural registration from the Michigan Department of Licensing. He is a native of Big Rapids and a 1966 graduate of the University of Michigan college of architecture and design. He has been employed at Pearson Engineering since 1972.

He is a resident of Michigan City, Ind., and received a civil engineering degree from Purdue University in 1971. He has been with Pearson since 1975. Pearson Engineering is affiliated with Pearson Construction Co. of Benton Harbor, and provides consultation, design and professional engineering for industrial and commercial clients for turn-key construction projects.

Helzer Will Speak At Seminar

Benton Harbor Area Schools Superintendent Richard F. Helzer will be a featured speaker at a national educators seminar in Drummond, Wis., this summer. The week-long August session is co-sponsored by the Wisconsin Association of School Boards and the University of Wisconsin.

Theme for the conference, which is expected to draw 50 school superintendents and other top school administrators, is "Effective Methods of Staff Selection, Development, Organization and Evaluation." Supt. Helzer will deal with "The Development and Utilization of Job Descriptions in Education," a presentation he first made before 3,000 delegates to the 1975 National School Boards association conference in Miami, Florida last year.

Helzer recently was granted a new three-year contract by the Benton Harbor board of education. He has been superintendent since 1974. He came to the area as assistant superintendent for instruction in the Benton Harbor schools in 1972.

From 1969-72, he was director of Ontario-East Regional Planning Center in Watertown, New York, and also served as an elementary principal in the Birmingham, Mich., school district for three years. Prior to becoming an administrator, Helzer was a junior high teacher and coach in Ferndale.

New Peanut Product Could Become Staple

CLEMSON, S.C. (AP) — Dr. Jack Mitchell Jr., a bio-chemist at Clemson university, has come up with a brand new peanut product which he believes could become a world-wide food staple.

Peanuts are ground into white mush, made into a milky mixture by adding water, cooked, dried into thin sheets and crumbled or ground into flakes or powder.

Mitchell says the product is highly nutritious, cholesterol free, has a long storage life and a remarkable ability to take on the flavor of other food.

Already tested recipes using the product as a basic ingredient range from candies and meats to scrambled eggs.

BANGOR — Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Batdorf are on a wedding trip to Colorado following their marriage Saturday, June 26, at Bangor Church of Christ. Richard Slacy performed the ceremony.

Parents of the bride, the former Miss Karen Lowder, are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lowder, Cass street, Bangor. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Batdorf of Perrinton.

The bride wore an empire gown with lace inserts. She wore a Juliet cap and carried miniature carnations and lily of the valley.

Mrs. Rod Bisher was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. John Bailey, sister of the bride, Miss Denise Guley and Miss Debe Landeck.

Richard Novello was best man. Andrew Hansen, Timothy Doly and Gregory Keeler were ushers.

A reception was held in the church fellowship hall.

Following their wedding trip, the couple will make their home at 548 Lincoln avenue, Lansing.

The bride is a graduate of Bangor high school and attended Great Lakes Bible college, Lansing. She is employed at

Establish Advisory Board

NEW YORK (AP) — Establishment of a permanent dictionary advisory board has been announced by Doubleday & Co.

The publishing firm says the group of language scholars will provide guidance on all future Doubleday dictionaries.

Circuit

VETERANS OF WORLD WAR I BARRACKS 582 AND LADIES AUXILIARY will meet Saturday, July 3, from 12:30 p.m. potluck dinner at Memorial Hall, St. Joseph. A business meeting will follow at 2 p.m. Serving on the dinner committee will be Mrs. Earl Rockwell, Mrs. Evelyn Etinger and Mrs. Ralph McCombe.

Book Value

CHICAGO (AP) — "The monetary value of a book, like other commodities, depends on supply and demand," according to the American Library Association.

It says, "A book that is very rare, in the sense that very few if any other copies are known, but which is not desired by book buyers, would probably have little monetary value."

"Similarly, in a subject area in which a great many collectors are interested, the values may remain moderate when the supply of books in that field is ample."

'Your Problems' By Ann Landers

Big Birthday Surprise

Dear Ann: I found something in the Shining Mountain Sentinel that I hope you will print for "Sex Clown's Wife." The author is unknown, but it sure made my day. Please share this hindering with your readers. — Ann Fan

WHY I FIRED MY SECRETARY
I woke up early feeling a little depressed because it was my birthday and I thought, "Another year older," but decided to make the best of it. So I showered and shaved, knowing when I went down to breakfast my wife would greet me with a big kiss and say happy birthday. Dear,

All smiles I went into breakfast and there sat my wife reading the newspaper as usual. She didn't say one word. So I got myself a cup of coffee and thought to myself, oh well, she just forgot. The kids will be in a few minutes all cheery and they will sing Happy Birthday and have a nice gift for me.

There I sat, enjoying my coffee, and I waited. Finally the kids came running in yelling give me a slice of toast! I'm late! And where is my coat? I'm going to miss the bus! Feeling more depressed than ever I left for the office.

When I walked into the office my secretary greeted me "I'll get you some coffee." Her remembering made me feel a lot better.
Later in the morning my secretary knocked on my office door and said since it's your birthday why don't we have lunch together. Thinking it would make me feel better I said that's a good idea.

So we locked up the office and since it was my birthday I said why don't we drive out of town and have lunch in the country instead of going to the usual place. So we drove out of town and went to a little out-of-the-way place and had a couple of martinis and a nice lunch, and started driving back to town when my secretary said why don't we go by my place and I will fix you another martini. It sounded like a good idea since we didn't have anything to do in the office anyway. So we went to her apartment and she fixed us both a martini and after a while she said if you will excuse me I think I will slip into something more comfortable and she left the room. In six minutes she opened her bedroom door and came out carrying a big birthday cake and following her was my wife and all my kids and there I sat with nothing on but my socks.

ANN LANDERS

Who Cares?

Dear Ann Landers: I was pleased to read your sane and courageous advice to the homosexual who had been threatened with blackmail by a fellow employee. "Either turn over 25 per cent of your salary or I'll tell..."

I had a similar choice to make a year ago. I told the would-be blackmailer to go ahead and tell — and he did. He was surprised to discover that nobody gave a damn. Worse yet, he ended up with the reputation of a mealy-mouthed troublemaker.

FOR TUESDAY, JUNE 29, 1976

ARIES (March 21-April 19)
Avoid seeking financial favors from persons you know on a purely social basis. They may help from a sense of obligation, but they won't like it.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)
Be careful today lest you say something unthinkingly that might hurt another, particularly a family member. It'll be hard to make amends.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21)
It isn't like you to make excuses, but that's just what you might try to do today. If you're in error, "less up."

CANCER (June 21-July 22)
There's a good possibility you could be penny-wise and pound-foolish today. Ask first if something will last, not how much it costs.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)
Your inner uncertainty dilutes your leadership qualities today. Others could sense this and be reluctant to follow as readily as usual.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 2)
The ends do not justify the means today. Don't use tactics that others can criticize you for. Some would welcome the opportunity.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23)
Don't be inconsiderate of close friends today. You'll offend very quickly if you renege on your share of the work or the check.

SCORPIO (Oct. 21-Nov. 22)
Achieving your goals is important, but you'll find the quest can lose its luster if you advance your cause by downgrading another.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21)
You'll have small patience for those not in full accord with your ideas, though their reasons are valid.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)
You may run into a problem today with one with whom you share an interest. Opinions will differ. The results could be unproductive.

Trim Ends Of Hair

You can overcome split hair ends by removing them. Get a haircut that takes off at least two inches of hair, since hair could well be split that far up.

Dr. Lester Coleman

We always hear the expression, "hunger pains." Is this a meaningful expression to physicians, too? — Miss G.D.E., Wisc.

Dear Miss E.: Hunger pains are indeed an expression of the body's physiological needs.

In most instances, they occur when the stomach is empty. With nothing in the stomach, the muscles of the stomach wall have nothing to contract down on. "Hunger pains" are almost immediately relieved by eating. The gnawing, unpleasant sensation described as "hunger pains" can be an indication of the possibility of peptic ulcer of the stomach or the small intestine.

There are, of course, many other conditions that resemble hunger pain. For this reason, self-diagnosis is worthless. And it delays learning the real cause of these pains.

Doctors consider periodic, cyclic pain that is relieved by eating when they establish a diagnosis of stomach disorders. Later, this can be confirmed or denied by X-ray studies and other techniques.

Constant "hunger pain" is the cry of the body for help and must not be neglected.

All of us in the family have difficulty in swallowing pills. Is there any way that this can be made easy for us? — Mrs. L.K., Miss.

Dear Mrs. L.: I've seen all kinds of gyrations that patients use to swallow a tiny pill or capsule. These same people do not seem to have the slightest difficulty in swallowing a large piece of steak.

A long time ago I quoted the suggestion made by Dr. William Robey, of Phoenix, Ariz. He tells his patients to take a sip of water and to hold it in the mouth. Then, he tells them to tilt their heads back as though to gargle. Then drop the pill on top of the water. Apparently, it becomes easier to swallow the pill. I tried it and it works.

How soon after a child is born with tongue-tie should the operation be done? — Mrs. K.J., Ga.

Dear Mrs. J.: The thin band of tissue that binds the tongue to the floor of the mouth can easily be cut.

The operation is a simple one, and should be done as early as possible so that problems of eating and, later, speech can be avoided.

I've read about people who simply will not travel unless they can take their animals with them.

But then, I've also read about monks who flog themselves with chains for penance, and a native tribe in New Zealand that inflicts pain by wearing spears through their tongues.

I am as crazy about animals as the next one, but face it, dogs were never meant to live the gypsy life. We were not on the road with our dog eight hours before we realized he placed certain restrictions on everyone in the car.

1. He demanded a seat of his own. In the front. Next to the window. With his own safety belt.

2. When another car passed with a dog in it, he declared the car open range and sprang from the front to the back seat, gouging everyone with his toenails and obstructing everyone's view. (My husband remembers the entire state of Texas as a hairy tail.)

3. There would be none of this crack-the-window-and-leave-the-dog-in-the-car-while-we-eat routine. The first time we tried it his screams were picked up by a Russian satellite. From then on, he ate hamburgers, fries, chicken, pizza and tacos with the rest of the people.

4. He was quite selective about his restrooms, rejecting the barren strips along the roadside, open field, and secluded forests. He preferred the intimacy of a lawn chair at poolside, a potted plant in the motel lobby or the leg of a hotel manager.

"The problem," said my husband one night at the motel, "is the dog has nothing to do."

"He chewed up the last three coloring books I bought him," I said dryly. "And he doesn't sing well."

"Don't be cute," he said. "I feel sorry for him. I think the answer is to stop more often and let him run and be with other dogs."

The next afternoon we pulled up to a roadside park and followed the signs to a section marked, "DOG AREA." The grass was so tall we could barely find the picnic table. Delicately, we made our way through where we found ourselves surrounded by dogs.

"This is great," said my husband, "just what he needs. Now, where's the dog?"

We looked around to discover him in the well-manicured lawn section sitting on a bench eating fried chicken with an older couple.

I shook my head. "I know he's a dog. You know he's a dog. Do you want to tell him and break his heart?"

Travel Trailer Stolen In Field

A 24-foot travel trailer valued at $3,000 was reported stolen Saturday from a field in Berrien township.

The owner was identified by Berrien sheriff's deputies as Homer Wilson, 66, of 114 Deans Hill road, Berrien Springs.

Wilson told deputies the travel trailer was stolen from his field off Hochberger road, just north of Eau Claire road.

The trailer was a Trail Blazer make, silver in color with an Indian head on the front. A front window and awning were reported broken earlier. The back door was also broken, from a break-in reported to deputies on Friday. Nothing was reported stolen then.

Mrs. Wilson described the trailer to this newspaper over the phone and added it was furnished, except for silverware she removed earlier.

Deputies said the trailer theft was reported by Wilson at 9:30 a.m. Saturday.

Deputies at 2:30 p.m. Saturday, investigated the reported theft of personal property valued at $879 from a summer home at 4320 Ridge road, Lincoln township. The home owner was identified as G.I. Latz, Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Reported stolen were liquor, including 25 bottles of wine, meat from a freezer, a record player, television set and iron skillet.

Child Falls Off Truck; Cyclist Hurt

Berrien sheriff's deputies said two people were injured in separate vehicle accidents on private property Saturday.

Carl Morris, Jr., 8, was treated and released from Memorial hospital, after falling from the rear of a pickup truck, operated by his mother, Mrs. Dorothy Morris, 556 Dell street, St. Joseph township, according to officers. The accident occurred about 7:55 p.m. in the lot of Hilltop foods, Hilltop road, St. Joseph township, it was reported.

Stanley L. Shafer, 22, of 1934 East Empire avenue, Benton township, was treated and released from Memorial hospital after falling from a motorcycle behind Blossom Lanes, 2305 M-139, Benton township, about 4:45 p.m. Deputies said Shafer reported he fell when the throttle stuck.

Warrant Leads To 2nd Charge

Benton township police said they arrested a man early Saturday who allegedly was sought on a felony warrant charging sale of narcotics, and then added a charge of their own.

Arrested about 4:40 a.m. in a parking lot in the 800 block of Pipestone street, Benton Harbor, was Gayle E. Jackson, 29, formerly of the Benton Harbor area but now reported residing in Cicero, Ill.

Police said the arrest came after they received a tip that Jackson was in the area and information that he was sought on a warrant accusing him of delivery of heroin. The warrant was held by the Berrien metro narcotics unit, police said.

Police said they filed the additional charge, carrying a concealed weapon, after confiscating a pistol during the arrest. Jackson was arraigned on the weapons charge later Saturday before Fifth District Judge John T. Hammond. Police said Jackson demanded a preliminary hearing and bond was set at $5,000.

State police from the Benton Harbor post said Samuel Hopkins, 44, Chicago, was booked on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon after a .38 caliber pistol, allegedly loaded with hollow point bullets, was confiscated from an auto, stopped on I-94, Benton township. Troopers said the car was stopped for speeding at 2:45 p.m. Saturday.

Parked Car Hit; Four Are Hurt

State police of the Benton Harbor post said four people in a their car was struck by another this morning shortly after midnight.

The injured were identified as the driver, Mary C. Fritz, 33, and passengers Deborah Hess, 24, Elizabeth Hess, 17, and Bernice Johns, 84, all of Owosso.

NEW CITY MANAGER
NORWAY, Mich. (AP) — Richard B. Hogan, 40, will assume the post of Norway city manager on Tuesday.

They were all released after treatment at Memorial hospital, St. Joseph. Troopers said the car had stopped on the shoulder west of M-139 to change drivers.

Driver of the other car was identified as Mark William Stewart, 20, of 5811 Riverside road, Coloma. Police said he was unhurt in the 12:02 a.m. accident.

Troopers said Stewart was ticketed for violation of the basic speed law, and Mary Fritz was issued a citation for improper parking.

Car Stolen, Two Entered

St. Joseph police said one car was reported stolen and glove boxes of two others were ransacked over the weekend in the 1900 block of Sunset court.

Edward McAllister of Sturgeon Bay, Wis., told police at 8:41 a.m. Saturday, his auto was stolen from the home of M.H.

Pross, 1823 Sunset court, where he was visiting. Police said the car was located, abandoned at Marsh and Broad streets.

Dr. Wilhelm K. Rock told police glove box contents of two autos were dumped on the floorboards, while the vehicles were parked at his home, 1914

Sunset court. Nothing was reported stolen.

Ex-Detroit Mayor Once Sought Big Union Loan?

DETROIT (AP) — Former Detroit Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh sought help from Teamsters President Frank Fitzsimmons last year while trying to arrange a $100 million to $200 million loan from the union's Central States Pension Fund in Detroit, according to the Detroit Free Press.

The newspaper reported Sunday that Cavanagh said he and Vincent Brennan, a Michigan Court of Appeals judge, met with Fitzsimmons in a Dearborn motel suite to discuss the loan.

Fitzsimmons reacted favorably to the proposal, Cavanagh was quoted as saying.

But Cavanagh said he did not pursue the loan idea because former Teamsters President James R. Hoffa disappeared four days later, and because of subsequent reports of federal investigations into Teamsters pension funds, the newspaper reported.

U.S. Labor Department officials revealed last week that several hundred million dollars of the Central States Fund and other Teamsters pension funds are unaccounted for, and they are investigating.

William Meese, chairman of the Detroit Edison board of directors said that, sometime before last July, "Jerry" called me and asked if we were interested in money (to borrow). I said "How much?" and he said $100 to $200 million. I said yes, give me some details. He never did. He indicated it was foreign money.

Meese said Cavanagh did not mention at the time that the money might come from Teamsters funds.

As an old friend of Fitzsimmons, Brennan said he attended the meeting because, "I was thinking of running for the (U.S.) Senate at the time," and wanted to ask Fitzsimmons support toward getting a Teamsters political endorsement. He later decided not to run.

'Lumberjacks' Turn Out By The Hundreds

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Taking advantage of a free wood offer by the Jackson County Park Department, hundreds of people turned lumberjacks recently and helped themselves to pine, oak, maple, elm, walnut and other trees on county property.

The department had decided to let area residents chop trees on a part of the land where a reservoir lake is going to be constructed in the early 1980s.

J.D. Ingram, chief park ranger, said the department decided to allow the cutting to provide people with free wood and to save the county an estimated $200,000 for clearing the trees before the lake is built.

Gas Well Blaze Snuffed 'Like Big Bunsen Burner'

WATERS, MICH. (AP) — The gas well fire's out at Waters, and Red Adair planned to fly home to Texas today "to babysit my three grandkids" for a few weeks.

The firefighter capped a month and a day of preparations when he snuffed the natural gas well-fire near Gaylord, in north-central Lower Michigan, Sunday, just as a Michigan Oil Co. official had predicted—like shutting off a giant Bunsen burner.

A 15,000-pound, hydraulic valve was lowered over the well pipe by a 50-foot reinforced boom. Then hydraulic lines were attached and the supply of gas from the well was cut off.

"It went beautiful," Adair said after capping the well. "Just like it was supposed to."

The well had been blazing since May 26, when a gas leak was ignited by the backfire of a diesel engine.

Adair, whose one-of-a-kind occupation has sent him to oil and gas well fires around the world, shrugged off questions about the danger of the work Sunday.

"It's not a daredevil thing, it's a job," he said. "But when you finish a job like this you feel like you've done something."

Vance Orr Jr., head of land operations for Michigan Oil Co., which owns the well, said daily gas loss at the site was about five-to seven-million cubic feet — enough to heat 3,000 homes on an average winter day. He estimated the wholesale value of the lost gas at $7,000 a day.

Adair's crew began pumping a thick mud compound into the well mouth immediately after extinguishing the flame, to drive the gas back into the Niagara reef rock formation from which it came.

Efforts will be made later to recover the drill pipe which was in the well at the time of the explosion. Orr said Saturday Michigan Oil Co. was confident it could salvage the well if the pipe can be saved.

"We certainly hope so," he said.

Adair predicted Sunday the pipe would be salvaged and the well put back into action. "This is a good well," he said. "It's a keeper."

Orr said even if things go well it would take a couple of months to put the well into production because pipeline would have to be extended to the well head and the nearest pipe is four miles away.

LINING UP FOR TOUR: Thousands of tourists Sunday, wait in long lines to tour tall ships at Newport, R.I., docks. Masts are of the U.S. Coast Guard training ship Eagle, foreground; Norwegian ship Christian Radich and the Sagres of Portugal. (AP Wirephoto)

Girls Get Top Billing As Tall Ships Reach U.S.

By MARC CHARNEY
Associated Press Writer
NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — They arrived in the harbor to cheers, applause and raucous whistles, the 42 young British women who sailed 832 miles of the Atlantic to help the United States celebrate the 200th birthday of its breakaway from the crown.

Their voyage aboard the schooner Sir Winston Churchill ended Sunday in this crowded, festive port where tall masts once again line the docks along the colonial brick buildings of the waterfront.

On Thursday, Newport will serve as the starting point for a procession of more than 200 sailing ships and smaller vessels which will parade up New York Harbor on July 4 to celebrate the nation's Bicentennial.

The stars will be 19 "Tall

Ships," most of them classic square-riggers with masts rising 150 feet or more above the deck. The Churchill is smaller and lighter than the square-riggers, but its all-woman crew made it the star among more than 10 British entries which raced here from Bermuda on the last leg of a transatlantic competition that began nearly two months ago in Plymouth, England.

The women took over in Bermuda from a male crew that had sailed from England under sponsorship of the Sail Training Association of Great Britain, owner of the ship.

Throughout the race which ended Saturday night with the Churchill five miles short of the finish line, the crew was supervised by a predominantly male complement of officers and petty officers led by Capt. Patrick Collis, a former Royal Navy training officer.

But they were disappointed when the Churchill encountered only light winds and then was becalmed for three days near Bermuda.

On Thursday, the calm ended when a 20-knot wind came up from the west and the ship sailed into it through 8 to 10-foot seas — 153 rough miles in 24 hours.

Sea sickness was rampant among the novices. As one young woman would lurch to the boat's side, another would rush over and clip her in a harness to the lee rail to keep her from falling overboard.

But one experienced trainee, 21-year-old Susan Wade of Bournemouth, said she was delighted as the Churchill heeled well over to starboard and water churned over the rail.

Reagan Closing Gap On Ford

By Associated Press

Ronald Reagan has moved within 25 committed delegates of President Ford, and some Republican National Committee members are worried that the down-to-the-wire battle may damage the GOP chances against the Democratic nominee in the fall election.

Ford started strong in weekend delegate selections, taking 17 of the 18 selected in Minnesota, and pushing him to 1,001 of the 1,130 needed for nomination. But then it was downhill for him as Reagan picked up all 46 delegates chosen in Montana, Idaho and New Mexico.

Those, plus two previously uncommitted Wyoming delegates who switched to Reagan, gave the former California governor 876 committed delegates.

Former Georgia Gov. Jimmy Carter, who had enough committed delegates last week to win the Democratic presidential nomination, spent the weekend at his home in Plains, Ga. He boosted his delegate total during the weekend to 1,539. To clinch the nomination, 1,503 delegates are needed.

The delegate counts are according to The Associated Press delegate survey.

There are still 88 GOP delegates to be chosen before the party's convention in Kansas City and 182 that are uncommitted.

"I believe on the basis of what has taken place so far, and our own projections, that I will go to Kansas City with enough votes to win on the first ballot," Reagan said.

President Ford, in Puerto Rico for the six-nation summit conference on the world economy, had an immediate commitment on the weekend development.

Ford began the weekend leading Reagan by 56 delegates and saw the margin sliced by more than half. Ford led Reagan 884 to 928 committed delegates before the weekend.

The sparring for the GOP nomination is causing some concern among Republican National Committee members, who wrapped up a three-day meeting Saturday in Washington.

Some of the committee members, who declined to be identified, said the party's best chance in November is for Reagan to agree to run as Ford's vice presidential running mate.

Ten of the 150 members said in interviews that the bitterness cropping up in the Ford-Reagan battle may cause problems since Carter is now down to only one active opponent for the Democratic nomination and is able to spend his time working toward November.

Only California Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr. is still actively campaigning for the Democratic nomination, and in a Friday night television address he said he would support Carter if the Georgian gets the nomination. Some of the bitterness that party leaders were concerned about was evidenced Saturday when Reagan commented on a delegate selection rules change in Minnesota.

"I have found to my surprise, in virtually every convention that I have visited so far that there have been desperate attempts to change the rules, and usually to my disadvantage. "That certainly hasn't increased my spirit of unity," Reagan told the Montana Republican convention.

Skyjacked Jet, 256 Aboard, Now In Uganda

KAMPALA, Uganda (AP) — Palestinian extremists holding an Air France jetliner at Uganda's international airport were reported to have allowed some of the passengers to disembark today but were believed still holding the crew and most passengers. An airline spokesman in Paris said some got off, but he did not know how many. An employee at Entebbe airport said he saw a group of passengers walk from the aircraft to a lounge in the old airport building, now used by the military.

The French Embassy here said Ugandan President Idi Amin and French Ambassador Pierre Renard were negotiating with the hijackers of the wide-bodied Airbus, which was reported to have 256 persons aboard when it landed here.

The Marxist Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine claimed responsibility for the hijacking, but the number of hijackers was not known.

Uganda radio broadcast a long statement it said was made by the hijackers' condemning France as an imperialist enemy of Arabs. The statement also attacked the United States, Israel, Egypt and Syria.

The French Embassy said the hijackers asked for food and water for the passengers after the plane reached here with just half an hour's fuel left in the tanks.

"Negotiations have begun, but so far we don't know what they want," said a French official. "All we know is that contact has been made."

Air France said the passengers on the plane when it arrived here included at least nine Americans and about 80 Israelis.

Air France and the U.S. Embassy in Tel Aviv said they had no identifications or other information about the Americans aboard. Informed sources in Tel Aviv said Israeli Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin asked the airline to keep the passengers list secret to make it difficult for the hijackers to separate the Israelis from the other passengers.

The medium-range, French-built jet was hijacked Sunday shortly after it took off from Athens on a flight from Tel Aviv to Paris. The airline said there were 247 passengers and 10 crew members aboard. The plane landed at Benghazi, Libya, for fuel, and an ailing woman passenger was taken to the hospital there. Then the plane flew to East Africa.

Communist Runs Last In Portugal

ties before completing our platform.

Both Pato and Carvalho promised trouble for a minority government.

Carvalho told a news conference that the workers, tenants' groups and leftist intellectuals who back his campaign "could now mobilize the working class so as to become a powerful reality ... that could eventually unseat bourgeois, parliamentary democracy."

Pato said last week that the Communists, who won 14.3 percent of the vote in the legislative elections, would fight any premier who left them out of the government. He mentioned the possibility of strikes and street demonstrations as possible tactics.

Portugal's new constitution gives the president sizable powers, including naming and dismissing the premier, vetting legislation and dissolving Parliament.

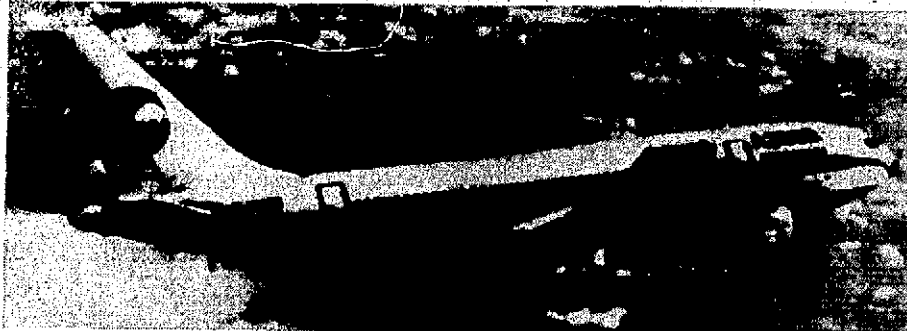

Eanes was serving in Angola when the military overthrew the fascist dictatorship in 1974 and was little known until he played the key role in crushing the attempt last fall by supporters of Carvalho to take over the government.

Eanes had Carvalho imprisoned for a month after the uprising was put down and during the campaign pledged to "bring tanks into the streets" if necessary to head off other such attempts.

To Extend Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is preparing a bicentennial birthday gift for American taxpayers.

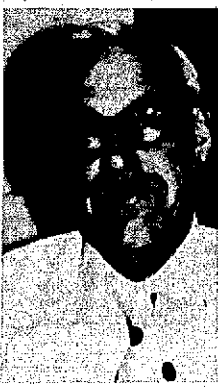

Both the House and Senate are expected to pass a stop-gap measure this week preventing a payroll withholding tax increase from taking effect on Wednesday when tax cuts enacted last year expire.

Lawmakers Get Final Whack At Bloated Budgets

By MALCOLM JOHNSON
Associated Press Writer

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — State lawmakers this week face five days of action on two budgets which greatly exceed Gov. William Milliken's recommendations. Before the end of the week, legislative leaders hope to enact budgets for the three-month extension of the current fiscal year which ends Sept. 30, and the 1976-77 fiscal year which begins the next day.

But as of Friday, the three-month budget was some $66 million over projected revenues and the full-year budget was $200 million over.

Some leaders in the Democratic-controlled legislature are talking about presenting the governor with out-of-balance budgets and letting him decide whether to order cutbacks or ask for more taxes.

But House Speaker Bobby Crim, D-Davison, said "we have to be reasonable." He said it might take an across-the-board cutback once the bills are finalized, however, to meet the goal.

"Yes, I think it can be done, but maybe not in the time we have," Crim said, referring to plans of adjourning for the summer by this weekend. He said the legislature might return briefly next week to mop up the budget if final approval is near by Friday.

By Tuesday, leaders say, appropriations bills for both budgets will be in House-Senate conference committees.

The first budget to be passed will be the three-month appropriations. The crucial measure among them covers school aid. Milliken has recommended reduced funding of the Detroit school employees retirement system by $35 million, but neither the Senate nor House agreed.

Key lawmakers decided last week to give the governor the choice of borrowing the money or making the appropriation easily accessible to a veto.

"If he wants to make the belt, let him make the belt — although we may leave the door open for him," said Sen. Dale Kildee, D-Flint.

Other trimming also will have to be done, but Sen. Bill Huffman, D-Madison Heights, acting chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, said, "I'm confident the bills will be within $35 million of being balanced" when they land on Milliken's desk.

The full 1976-77 fiscal year budget is another story. Huffman predicted the legislature will be unable to reduce appropriations to less than $150 million above the governor's recommendations "even with the most prudent action."

Huffman pointed out, however, that enactment of a bill to pay for state construction through bonding instead of cash on hand could save up to $80 million.

Complicating the week's work will be efforts to enact other legislation as well, most notably a public transportation system for the Detroit area. The House may take up a bill lowering the permissible level of PBB in food, while the Senate is poised for a likely battle over a stringent house-passed open meeting bill.

Regardless of the success in approving the budgets and winding up other action, it promises to be a week of long hours and short tempers. Senate Majority Leader William Fitzgerald, D-Detroit, noted to a reporter: "It will be one of the most miserable weeks you'll ever spend here."

Malkin Announces Committee

Kun Malkin, a Democratic candidate for Benton township treasurer, today announced the formation of a campaign committee, headed by Morris Thompson.

Malkin said Thompson is a counselor for the Youth Services and Assistance Bureau, a council member of the Northeast Branch YMCA, and member of the metro planning committee for the Twin City YMCA.

Malkin said neighborhood captains are Andrew Davis for the Bard school area; Willie Mulhern, airport area; Frank Graziano, Fairplain; Larry Nielsen, North Shore area; Bill Rohm, Benton Heights; Bertha Ford, Boynton school; Charles Cobb, Sorter school; and Louis J. Kiteger, Millbury.

Fire Rips Vacant Dwelling

NILES — Niles township firemen said a vacant house northeast of here was extensively damaged by fire early this morning.

No cause has been determined for the blaze, reported by a neighbor at 12:32 a.m., which struck the one story frame house at 2000 Lewis drive, Niles. Firemen said the house is owned by James Marlin of Niles.

Firemen said the fire broke out in a utility room at the back of the house and spread to the kitchen area. Heat and smoke damage was reported throughout the structure, firemen said.

No damage estimate has been made, firemen said.

Three Hurt In US-12 Smashup

THREE OAKS — Three Dowagiac brothers were injured, when the auto they were riding in crashed into a utility pole on US-12 here early yesterday.

Listed in fair condition this morning at St. Anthony's hospital, Michigan City, was the driver of the car, Sam Sanders, 24, of 302 Grand Boulevard, Dowagiac. His two brothers, Edwin, 26, and George, 20, of the same address, were treated and released from St. Anthony's.

Three Oaks police said the auto was headed west on US-12 when apparently the driver lost control of the vehicle striking the pole on the southside of the road at 12:40 a.m. yesterday. Police said no citations have been issued and the accident remains under investigation.

ALLEGED HIT-RUN ACCIDENT: Driver and passenger on motorcycle (center) were hospitalized with serious injuries after virtual head-on collision with automobile (right) Sunday night on North Euclid avenue in Benton Township. Willie Warren, 51, 352 North Euclid, shown being placed in ambulance (left), was identified as driver of car and charged with driving under influence of intoxicants and leaving scene of personal injury accident. Police said Warren was found beneath bush 100 feet from car. He was released from hospital after examination and booked at county jail. Passenger of motorcycle, Judy Johnson, 25, 2290 Lawrence drive, Benton Heights, was transferred from Mercy hospital to Presbyterian St.

Luke's hospital in Chicago for treatment of several brokenbones and possible internal injuries, police said. Motorcycle driver, Johnnie Eugene Williamson, 28, 1897 Union street, Fairplain, was reported in serious condition at Mercy hospital with broken leg and wrist. (Staff photos)

Berrien Girl 5th Runner-Up

TRAVERSE CITY — Susan Shuran, daughter of M. and Mrs. Steven Shuran of Stevensville, was selected as fifth runner-up in the 1976 National Cherry Queen pageant here Saturday night.

The new queen, Miss Carol Grishaw of Traverse City, and her court including Miss Shull preside over the 50th annual National Cherry Festival to be held here July 4-10. A total of 21 contestants participated. Miss Shuran was first runner-up in the National Cherry Queen pageant in 1974 and was also selected Miss Stevensville in 1973. She was sponsored by the Miss Stevensville queen committee.

Also competing, but not placing in the contest, was Miss Cynthia Thornburgh of Niles, Miss Blossomtime 1975. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Thornburgh of Niles.

Covert Girl Is Speech Winner

YPSILANTI — Valerie Bryant, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bryant, Covert, was named winner of the speech competition at the Miss Teen Age Michigan pageant over the weekend here.

She was one of 61 contestants in the pageant won by Terri Wilkinson of Livonia. Each contestant, as part of the competition had to write and present a speech on the topic "What's Right About America." Miss Bryant was one of the youngest contestants in the pageant.

Miss Bryant has just completed her freshman year at Covert high school. An all-A student she received a trophy for winning the speech competition.

Contestants for the state contest, a preliminary to the Miss Teen Age America contest, were selected on the basis of scholastic achievement, community involvement and church activities. The contestants were judged on those three points. Plus poise, Personality, appearance and the speech competition. Miss Bryant was a finalist.

The Big Test

CLEVELAND (AP) — Secretary of Labor W.J. Usery Jr., who gained prominence as the chief labor troubleshooter, will put his negotiation skills to use today as he attempts to spark progress in the 11-week old United Rubber Workers strike.

Vandals Leave Damage Trail In Area

Vandals over the weekend broke church windows at Stevensville, splattered red paint on autos, in Benton township's Higman park area and smashed street light bulbs and sprayed paint on fire hydrants in St. Joseph, according to Twin Cities area police.

Two stained glass windows and two garage windows were reported broken Saturday at the St. Joseph Catholic church annex, 5353 Roosevelt road, Stevensville, Berrien sheriff's deputies said. Damage was estimated at $225.

Broken were two 10 by 72-inch stained glass windows in the annex and two 14 by 30-inch garage windows on the property.

Benton township said Sunday that red paint was splashed on autos of Mrs. Margaret Leimer, 188 Higman Park road; James Redmond, 116 Higman Park;

Edward Frank, 193 Higman Park, and Thomas Wainwright, 124 Higman Park.

Mailboxes also were reported damaged at the homes of Mrs. Leimer; Mrs. Billie Smith, 185 Higman Park; R.W. Spencer, 170 Higman Park; and at 168 Higman Park, where the occupant was unknown.

St. Joseph police Sunday said street light globes were broken at Highland and Morton, in the 2700 block of Morton and in the south driveway of the Memorial hospital lot, off Morton. A pellet gun or slingshot was believed used, police said.

St. Joseph police also said vandals sprayed paint on six fire hydrants that previously had been decorated along a Bicentennial theme.

The hydrants are located on South State street at the intersection of Petrie and Kingley avenues and Donna drive, in the 2400 and 2500 blocks of Lakeview street and in the 220 block of Wilson court, police said.

Police also reported that a manhole cover was stolen from the 2700 block of Morton.

In Benton Harbor, Paul Stafford told city police early Sunday that a window was broken at his home, 681 Pavane street.

Four thefts, including an all-terrain vehicle, were reported.

Ed Soltesz, 2846 South Lake Shore drive, told St. Joseph township police his burgundy all-terrain vehicle, valued at $800, was stolen from where it was parked beside his garage. He said the vehicle weighed just 230 pounds and could have been carried by two people.

David Sutherland, route 1, Meadowbrook road, Benton township, told Berrien sheriff's deputies two tires on his 1972 Oldsmobile were slashed over the weekend. Police said the damage was estimated at more than $100.

citizens' band radio, valued at $135, was reported stolen from the car of James Ross, 155 Ridgeway drive, Benton township, parked in the 100 block of South Seeley street.

Rev. Nathaniel Gathright, 1030 East Main street, told Benton township police a .38 caliber revolver was stolen when his home was broken into.

Jesse Edmonds, 504 Territorial road, told Benton Harbor police two tires on his 1972 Oldsmobile were slashed over the weekend. Police said the damage was estimated at more than $100.

Royalton Township Park Is Dedicated

Royalton township's eight-acre park was formally dedicated at ceremonies Saturday attended by about 70 township residents, according to Supervisor Harley Marschke.

The park, located behind the township hall at Scottdale and John Beers roads, was named the Royalton township Bicentennial park.

A Bicentennial tree was planted in honor of the occasion.

The park has been under construction for three years. Trees and grass have been planted, playground equipment has been installed, a picnic area has been built and a pavilion is now under construction.

The park development has been supervised by the five-member park committee headed by Mrs. Nancy Plunkett. Other committee members are Milton Gelsler, Mrs. Margaret Karr, Ronald Both and Mrs. Patricia Callendar.

LINCOLN TOWNSHIP FIRE: Unidentified neighbors help move furniture from Don Fields residence, 3765 Blenheim road, Lincoln township (left photo). Tri-unit firemen said basement of home was severely damaged by fire that apparently started in electrical circuit breaker box. Firemen checked for fire on roof of home (center photo), but said fire was contained in basement. They reported smoke damage throughout home. Tri-Unit Fire Chief Haskel Starbuck (right photo on knees) suffered smoke inhalation and was aided by a fireman's wife, Mrs. Marlin Gunkel. He did not require medical treatment. Fire was reported at 12:15 p.m. Starbuck said a twisted shaft on one truck hampered early efforts of firemen, but a backup truck from second Tri-Unit station was called in to extinguish blaze. (C.C. Brooks photos)

SJ Student Wins Award At EMU

YPSILANTI, Mich. — Thomas Eric Capes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Capes, 2211 Mount Curve, St. Joseph, has received an upperclass residential award for Leadership for the 1976-77 school year at Eastern Michigan university.

The scholarship is awarded for demonstration of leadership abilities and participation in campus and community services.

Thomas, a senior majoring in economics, has participated in track and field, cross country and intramural sports at Eastern. He is also a floor governor for his dormitory and an undergraduate research assistant.

Hartfordite Safe After Capsizing

Berrien sheriff's marine, deputies said a Hartford boater was unhurt after his 14-foot boat capsized in the St. Joseph river in Sodus township Sunday.

Donald Morse, 39, route 2, Hartford, was alone in the boat when it overturned about 9 a.m. Marine Deputy Paul Watt said the aluminum boat was recovered.

HEALTH NEWS...

There Is No Such Thing As Instant Arthritis

Dr. Vince Ackerman of The Ackerman Chiropractic Center was reviewing recently the public attitude regarding such major health problems as arthritis.

It seems as if we are living in an age when everything is "right now."

"Take arthritis, for example," says Dr. Ackerman.

We have all seen the TV commercial that shows a lady painfully limping with the how on her dress while the announcer suggests she should seek temporary relief.

"Mind you, he doesn't suggest cure or permanent correction, but simply a pill's worth of partial relief. You'd think there was something called instant arthritis," says Dr. Ackerman.

The good doctor then asks the question "what came before?"

And he illustrates his point. "I think practically everybody that now suffers from arthritis once experienced a twinge of pain in the knee or finger that stiffened after a minor stub or a crick in the neck.

"That is where arthritis starts," says Dr. Ackerman, "and as far as I'm concerned that is where it should end. Please believe me," he added, "there is no such thing as instant arthritis."

Dr. Ackerman's point is that if an individual has a "little bursitis" or feels "creaky" when he or she gets up some morning, it should be accepted as nature's warning.

It is at that time that competent effective diagnosis and treatment should be sought.

"There's no disputing that arthritis is a costly, miserable condition," says Dr. Ackerman.

"But I wish people wouldn't simply resign themselves to facing it. The public must learn to fight the battle with arthritis when they can win it."

If the battle is to be won, in other words, it must be fought where and when it can be won.

"I don't think you'll find an arthritis disputing this point."

Dr. Ackerman maintains offices at 3918 Red Arrow Hwy. St. Joseph (Telephone 429-1700.)

PRESIDENT FORD
Inflation warning

Ford To Allies: Go Slow On Social Welfare Plans

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP) — President Ford is urging America's chief industrial allies to go slow on social welfare spending lest they revive inflation which could lead to a new global recession.

Ford told the opening session Sunday of the seven-nation economic summit conference he convened:

"The global inflationary climate resulted in large part because governments overcommitted themselves to ameliorate social inequities at home and abroad and in achieve an ever-rising standard of living."

Alan Greenspan, chairman of Ford's Council of Economic Advisers, said the President argued that governments were "too ambitious in what they actually attempted to achieve as well as in the expectations they raised."

Greenspan said Ford certainly favors rising living standards but believes they are threatened when inflation gets out of hand.

Ford's aides declined to report the reaction of the government chiefs of Britain, Canada, France, Italy, Japan and West Germany to Ford's statement. However, all their finance ministers have already endorsed the idea of moderating economic recovery, even at the cost of continued high unemployment, in order to dampen inflation.

The 24-hour summit at the Dorado Beach Hotel ends this afternoon with a communique, but it was expected to contain nothing startling. Ford said he convened the conference to continue the dialogue begun at a similar meeting last November at Rambouillet, France. State Department counselor Helmut Sonnenfeldt told reporters the purpose was "not so much to solve the technical problems (raised by recent economic and financial developments) but to demonstrate the level of concern with these problems."

"The President is well satisfied that this great spirit and excellent sense of responsibility has carried over" since Rambouillet, Sonnenfeldt said.

A high-ranking Canadian official said U.S. officials also discussed creation of a "supplemental" assistance program to provide aid to industrial nations in acute financial difficulties. The first beneficiaries would be Britain and Italy.

About 15,000 supporters of Puerto Rican independence demonstrated outside the main

Seafarer Won't Be Built If Damage Evident--Navy

MUSKEGON, Mich. (AP) — Project Seafarer will not be built if reliable tests show it will damage the environment, according to Navy Secretary J. William Middendorf.

"But no study that has any credence has shown any adverse effect on the environment," Middendorf told reporters in Muskegon, where he was parade marshal at the West Michigan Seaway Festival on Saturday.

Seafarer is the name of a proposed communications grid project; the Navy says would allow radio linkup with submerged submarines anywhere in the world. It would involve installation of a massive grid of underground cables to transmit extra low frequency radio waves.

Critics of Seafarer, who want to keep the project out of Michigan's Upper Peninsula, contend that a suppressed Navy study already has been conducted which suggests the low frequency radio waves could cause medical problems for residents of the area where the grid is installed.

Middendorf refused to say whether such a study exists, and if so, whether he considered it unreliable.

He said official clinical tests of the project are being conducted by the National Academy of Sciences, but would be completed "until" late summer or fall.

Two other possible sites for Seafarer are under consideration by the Navy, one in New Mexico and the other in Nevada.

But Middendorf said "by an accident of nature, the U.P. with its granite shelf is the best possible site."

Van Buren Folk Dancers Schedule Tryout Sessions

PAW PAW — Tryouts for membership on the Van Buren Folk Dancers will be held here each Monday night from July 19 throughout the summer, according to Kathy Krushinsky, a spokesman for the youth group.

Each tryout session will begin at 7:30 p.m. at Black River elementary school in Paw Paw, she said. She said the 60-member group is losing 18 members because of age this year and those slots have to be filled. A he eligible to join the group, applicants must be at least 14 (or entering their freshman year in high school), but not yet have entered their junior high school year, she said.

MSU PROF ON FARMING: It's Tough Without Sprays

By MARY STEVENSON
Associated Press Writer

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Consumers who don't want the produce they eat "contaminated" with pesticides might not like what happens when the chemicals aren't used.

ono horticulturist says. "Most commercial growers are unable to make a living out of farming only the organic way," said H. John Carew, professor and chairman of the Department of Horticulture at Michigan State University. "The reason," he added, "is that most consumers don't like to see insects on their cabbage or worms in their sweet corn because they think there's something wrong with it." Carew doesn't advise against organic farming but doesn't advocate it either. "Where we think we wouldn't go along is the idea that if you grow crops organically then they are going to be more resistant to diseases or insects or that they are going to be more nutritious. We don't have any evidence of that," he said. "I think most gardening is partially organic anyway," he added. "We use plant refuse from that crops that were grown before. Many of the things the strong organic gardeners advocate, we would go along with."

Among these, he said, is crop rotation, which must be done farmers do anyway. This means never planting the same crop on the same soil it was planted on last year. "Quite often, there will be diseases, or insects that remain in the soil from the year before," Carew explained.

Another practice, he said, is that plants that are heavily infestes with insects or are diseased should be removed and destroyed to prevent the insect or disease from spreading to other plants.

Some plants themselves act as pesticides, he said, such as the marigold, which repels small beet worms.

Planting crops in heavy organic soil doesn't guarantee them smooth sailing, he added. "We've seen lots of crops grown in soils like peat or mulch that are very high in organic matter, that have just as many insects or diseases as those grown in soils lower in organic matter," he explained.

Just how practical organic gardening is depends on the circumstances, he added. "Some gardeners can do it. For farming, it depends on the crop, and whether you are willing to tolerate a few insects or diseases on crops."

Las Vegas Hooker's Pay Is Good, Life Glamorous

By GARY R. PEDERSEN
Associated Press Writer

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Sandy is a fresh-faced 22-year-old who has the best things money can buy.

She has a beautiful apartment, the latest clothes, a new car and a lot of money to buy other beautiful things.

She also has every morning and afternoon free to lie by the pool and get tanned under the hot southern Nevada sun. She eats in the finest restaurants, attends the best shows, and frequents the poshest hotels.

She was an airlines stewardess for a while, but her salary then couldn't compare to the $80,000 tax-free income she claims she's making now.

Sandy is a hooker, a prostitute — one of the estimated 2,500 in this gambling-show city.

Police say "working girls" flock to Las Vegas because of the great weather, fresh air, best-of-everything atmosphere, and for the high-rolling gamblers who tip heavy and who aren't demanding customers.

"Besides that," none officer says, "even if a hooker doesn't make a bundle, she still will have a good time here."

Sandy looks like a model, has a college degree and comes from a middle-class family in the Midwest. Her family thinks she works in public relations, which is partially true. Sandy isn't her true name, but her story is.

She's been a hooker almost two years and hasn't yet been "busted" by the Las Vegas Metropolitan Police. But even when she is, if she is, at 60 grand a year she can afford to plead guilty and pay the usual $25 fine.

Why, when she could do other things, is she a working girl? "The money is fantastic; the hours are good, and you get to meet interesting people and travel a lot," she explains. She says she got turned onto the idea of being a hooker by a friend.

She conceded that her job can get uncomfortable at times, "but you just have to remember that when you finish the trick you can leave it behind you."

On a good night, Sandy may make $1,500. On a bad night, she may bring home only $250. And she doesn't have to work every night.

Like many other girls, Sandy says she works through a referral system, usually through the bell desk at hotels. The customer asks the bells, the bells call Sandy and, if it's a $100 trick, the bells may get half.

High Potency Vitamin E
Sexual Potency
Quickly Improves
With New 'E-Pill'

MIAMI BEACH (Special) — An amazing new "super-charged" vitamin E-Pill has recently been developed that reportedly "quickly increases and rejuvenates sexual drives and potency for both men and women of all ages. It also makes them feel healthier and more youthful." It is now available to the American public.

The new high potency E-Pill not only seems to increase sexual ability of both sexes but also "actually perks up sexual interest and stimulates a person's desires," according to a spokesman for the manufacturer.

Also Improves General Health
This new, easy-to-take E-Pill contains newly formulated, highly concentrated vitamin E. It tends to quickly build up and strengthen the natural physiological processes of the body that are believed to be basically responsible for its potency, youthfulness, health and long life.

Meds 4 Out Of 5 People
Indications are that the new E-Pill gives quick and effective results to as high as 4 out of 5 people (80%) who have used it. Some people report no great change but feel the high potency of vitamin E in the pill does quickly make them feel better from a general health standpoint.

Other reports also show it tends to "lessen daily tension and give a more relaxed, happier outlook on life."

Now Available
The use of these high potency (one-a-day) E-Pills is perfectly safe and are now available without prescription from the manufacturer by mail order only. To get your supply, send $6.95 for a 2 week supply, or $10.95 for a 30 day supply, or $17.95 for a 60 day supply; cash, check, or money order to: E-Pill, Dept. D31, 2001 N.W. 7th St., Miami, Fla. 33125. (unconditional money-back guarantee).

BH Center 'Graduates' Sixteen

Sixteen children who will leave the Community Parents Child Care center, Benton Harbor, and enter kindergarten next September, received certificates at the center's second annual "commencement" Sunday. The ceremony was held at the center, 636 Pipestone street at 8 p.m.

Nura Jefferson, executive director, said the "graduating" five-year-olds were presented certificates stating they have completed the pre-school readiness program at the center. "She said the center is open the year around but that attendance drops for the summer. She explained older children in the families are out of school in the summer and can care for the younger ones at home. Also, some of the parents are employed by the schools and do not work during summer months. Center attendance during the school year has been about 60."

All the children at the center took part in an annual picnic Friday evening at Kiwanis park in St. Joseph.

His Ships Are Old Before He Builds Them

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — A (T) — J. Richard Steffy, 51, is a ship builder but not the usual kind.

As a member of the American Institute of Nautical Archaeology here, Steffy designs and helps reconstruct historic ships whose pieces are uncovered in archaeological expeditions.

"The divers bring up from the sea pieces of wood from the ships. It is my job to figure out the shape of the ship and help piece it together," Steffy says.

Some of the ships Steffy has helped reconstruct include a 19th-century Roman ship and a 14th-century trading schooner.

Coughlin Gets Warm Welcome

ROYAL OAK, Mich. (AP) — More than 3,000 worshippers thronged the Shrine of the Little Flower in Royal Oak Sunday to celebrate the parish's Golden Jubilee—and to hear again one of its most famous figures, 84-year-old Father James Coughlin.

Coughlin, whose isolationist and anticommunist views reached millions of depression-era Americans through his radio broadcasts and Social Justice magazine, made the rare public appearance to deliver a ringing half-hour sermon.

Accompanied by standing ovations, the internationally known former "radio priest" spoke of communism and Nazism, of the duties of man and the wisdom of God.

Coughlin shared the pulpit with John Cardinal Dearden, Archbishop of Detroit, who said the Mass celebrating the Shrine's 50th anniversary. Dearden praised Coughlin for "gifts of leadership, communication, warmth, tenderness and understanding," and called the Shrine a "monument to faith."

In a brief news conference following the Mass, Coughlin recalled his stormy career and spoke proudly of what he said were his own money-raising efforts to help Franco stop communism in Spain. "Most Protestants had more faith in me than the Catholics did," he said.

Coughlin became known around the world in the early 30's through his radio broadcasts and magazine, which spread his increasingly reactionary views up to and after America's entry into World War II.

Many felt his later isolationist and anticommunist statements contained increasing elements of pro-Nazi and anti-Semitic sentiment.

Pressure from church superiors led him to end his radio career in 1940, and the government later banned his magazine from the mails for violation of the Espionage Act. Coughlin retired in 1948.

Asked Sunday how he felt about being back at his church, he said, "I'm elated, of course. It's my baby."

CARTOONIST DIES
MONTPELLIER, France (AP) — Albert Dubout, internationally known cartoonist and illustrator, died Sunday. He was 71.

Ford Shades Carter In Poll

DETROIT (AP) — If Michigan voters went to the presidential polls today, President Ford and former Georgia Gov. Jimmy Carter apparently would finish neck-and-neck, according to a Detroit News poll.

The copyrighted poll published in Sunday's edition showed 36 per cent of Michigan voters choosing Ford and 35 per cent picking Carter. The remaining 29 per cent were undecided.

The poll of 700 voters was taken by Market Opinion Research Inc.

They study also put Ford well ahead of GOP rival Ronald Reagan in Ford's home state. In a race between Carter and the former California governor, Carter gets 48 per cent of the votes and Reagan 21 per cent, with 31 per cent undecided.

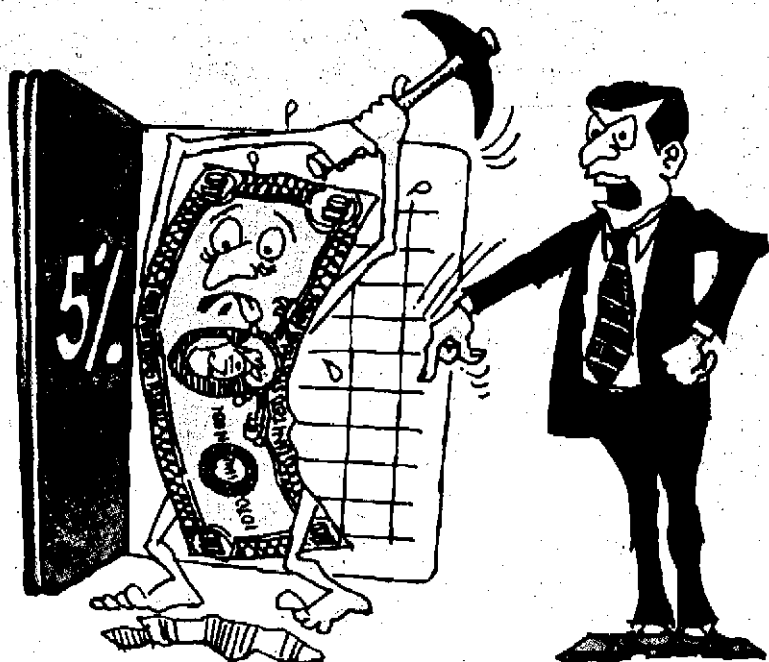

The high per cent of undecided voters makes it difficult to predict who could win in November, since this vote can determine the outcome of an election.

Ford's Michigan support base in the sample consisted of 69 per cent of the core Republicans, 41 per cent of ticket-splitters and 12 per cent of the Democrats.

Carter's backers included 85 per cent of the core Democrats, 30 per cent of the ticket-splitters and eight per cent of core Republicans.

In the trial race between Carter and Ford, 28 per cent of the women sampled were undecided, compared with 18 per cent of the men sampled.

Stones Second In Olympic Qualifying Poor Sets 1,500-Meter Record

EUGENE, Ore. (AP) — Cindy Poor stole the show from Francine Lutz and Jan Merrill, Rick Wohlhuter won a bizarre race in the 1,500 meters and Dwight Stones failed to win his specialty Sunday on the final day of the U.S. Olympic track and field trials.

Miss Poor, a recent graduate of San Jose State, broke the American record by winning the women's 1,500 in 4:07.32 and predicted it would take a faster time to win the Olympic gold medal.

"I know Montreal will go a lot lower," said Miss Poor, predicting the Olympic winner "probably will have to break four minutes," something no woman has ever done.

The top four finishers surpassed the U.S. mark of 4:08.5

set last year by Mrs. Lutz, who took third in 4:08.8.

Miss Merrill, who turned 20 last week, was second in 4:07.35 with Clady Bremser fourth in 4:08.26.

Miss Poor, second in the 800 meters five days earlier, outkicked the favorites, voiding what had been billed as a Lutz-Merrill duel.

"I don't think I've ever been more nervous in my life," said Mrs. Lutz, whose husband, Mark, made the U.S. team in the 200 meters. "I've been sitting around all day trembling ... I've always been No. 1 in my country," she added, "and when your position is threatened ... in the men's 1,500 finals, Wohlhuter became a double winner as the 27-year-old Chicago insurance man edged Oregon's Matt Centrowitz and Mike Durkin, a law school student in Chicago.

Wohlhuter, who also won the 800 meters, was clocked in 3:38.47 to 3:36.70 for Centrowitz and 3:36.72 for Durkin, who did a modified striptease after the race by tossing his shoes and jersey to the crowd.

Tom Byers of the Ohio Track Club ran a blazing 1:51.3 in the first two laps, a pace that stunned a crowd of 15,200 at Hayward Field on the University of Oregon campus.

"I got so excited I lost my head," said Byers, who faded and finished last in a lap-timed 3:55.9.

Stones, who set the world record of 7-7 in the NCAA championships, cleared 7-4½ in the high jump and finished behind surprising New Yorker Bill Jankunis, who leaped a lifetime best of 7-5¾.

James Barrineau of the University of Georgia grabbed the other Olympic berth, jumping an all-time best of 7-4½.

Doug Brown, the American record holder in the 3,000-meter steeplechase, outraced Brigham Young's Henry Marsh to win that event in 8:27.39. Mike Roche of the New York Athletic Club hit the final barrier and went to one knee but leaped to his feet and edged Don Timm for the final Olympic berth.

Dick Buerkle of the New York Athletic Club, who ran for several years in the shadow of the late Steve Prefontaine, won the 5,000 meters in a hand-timed 13:28.6 with Duncan MacDonald second in 13:29.46 and Paul Geis, formerly of Oregon, third in 13:38.46.

Sam Colson, a 25-year-old graduate of Kansas, won the javelin at 276-2 with Brigham Young's Richard George second, at 269-9 and Anthony Hall, formerly of Norfolk State, third at 267-8.

Rhonda Brady, a 16-year-old high school student from Griffin, Ind., became the youngest member of the U.S. team by winning the women's 100-meter hurdles. Her time of 13.25 was better than Pat Wolveaere's U.S. record of 13.26, but it was wind-aided.

Deby LaPlant was second in 13.27 and Pat Donnelly third in 13.31.

In the women's shotput, the lone U.S. Olympian will be 25-year-old Maren Seidler of San Jose, Calif., whose winning throw of 53-3¾ was well under her U.S. mark of 58-7 set two years ago.

TOP FLOPPER: Bill Jankunis scored an upset in the U.S. Track and Field Trials Sunday by beating world record holder Dwight Stones in the high jump. Jankunis' top jump was 7' 5¾" and Stones' was 7' 4½". (AP Wirephoto)

Judy Rankin Tops Zaharias Tourney

CHAGRIN FALLS, Ohio (AP) —

The leading money winner on the ladies pro golf tour, Judy Rankin, tries to maintain the three-stroke lead she attained Sunday in today's showdown with JoAnne Carner and Jane Blalock in the final round of the Babe Zaharias Invitational.

"We'll see who chokes," quipped Mrs. Carner who had very little to joke about after shooting a three-over-par 75. She had entered the round with a three-stroke lead.

But that was before Mrs. Rankin combined excellent approach shots and accurate putting to score a three-under-par 69 for the second consecutive day.

She is the leading money winner on the Ladies Professional Golf Association tour with earnings of about $81,000. A $15,000 first-place victory here would put her just shy of $100,000, which no woman golfer has yet earned.

The 87-degree weather took its toll on Mrs. Rankin. "I got very tired out there today. This is the first real hot day we've played in this year. I hit only two of my last six drives. Coming in I just scraped them out there ... (But) all I need is a night to recharge."

Mrs. Carner, who is fourth in the money standings with about $44,000, had shot two steady rounds of 70s going into the third stanza. She had three bogeys and a birdie on the front nine and a pair of bogeys and a birdie on the finishing holes.

"On the whole it was a terrible round," she said. "I will have to play well to beat Judy. She is a little more steady than I am."

The late-surgings Miss Blalock matched Mrs. Rankin's 69 for the day on four birdies and one bogey. She had previous rounds of 74 and 72.

Behind the top three was Marilyn J. Smith of New Zealand, who shot a 71 to inch up to 217. Three players are bunched at 218: Chako Higuchi of Japan, shot a 73; Cathy McMullin and Pam Higgins, both with 70.

Geiberger Wins Western Dickson Falls Victim To Butler Beast

OAK BROOK, Ill. (AP) — Maybe the real winner of the Western Open was the Butler National Golf Club course and not Al Geiberger.

And maybe the Western Open can be called the Back Door Derby. Nobody went forward.

Geiberger backed into the $40,000 top prize by deliberately playing for a bogey on the last hole. He said later, "I'll admit that was a rare way to win a tournament." He said that he remembered Arnold Palmer winning at Tuscon some years ago with a double bogey on the final hole, but, of course, he wasn't going for one.

Geiberger won with a closing 73 for a 288, four strokes over Joe Porter.

"It's hard for me to believe I won," he said.

Bob Dickson, leader through the first three rounds, dreamed of winning, which would have gotten him out of the weekly Monday qualifying tournaments.

After licking the Butler National beast the first two rounds with 67-69, the only player to beat par, Dickson collapsed.

He started Sunday with a 12-foot birdie putt on the first hole that gave him a six-stroke lead. He finished with an 80, sharing third place with defending champion Hale Irwin and Charles Coody at 280, good for $10,000.

Playing just ahead of Dickson and Geiberger was Joe Porter of Scottsdale, Ariz. He is another Monday qualifier with winnings of only $6,000 this season. Since turning pro in 1968, his biggest year was 1975 when he won $18,819.

Going to the 17th, Porter was one shot ahead of Geiberger.

Geiberger's 13-foot birdie putt on the 14th hole had shot him ahead of Dickson who had double bogeyed.

However, on the 17th, Porter hit from the rough into the water, banged his club on the ground in disgust and finally settled for a bogey.

On 17, Geiberger made a testy par, coming out of the sand and canning a five-foot putt. At that point, he knew he had tied Porter for the lead.

But up ahead on 18, Porter was in trouble, unknown to Geiberger. Porter put his drive into the rough, his second into a trap, his third over the green and ended with a double bogey six for a 73 and 289.

On the 18th, Geiberger followed the general script of the tournament and put his drive among the trees.

"I had a shot to the green," he said. "But it was a very difficult one with water to contend with. I asked an official what Porter had done. He told me he double bogeyed. Can you imagine how I felt, knowing that all I needed to win the tournament was to bogey the last hole? I changed my whole game plan and played my second shot safe."

"Then I hit a sand wedge and it went over the green, something I had been doing all day," Geiberger continued. "And I said to myself, 'You dummy, you.' But I didn't have a bad lie and chipped back to within three feet of the cup and was able to get down for a five."

LeFlore 'Mistake' Covers Houk Boner

BOSTON (AP) — Detroit speedster Ron LeFlore, who has combined sprinting and sliding ability for 22 stolen bases this season, made "a mistake" that paid off for the Tigers.

LeFlore broke up a double play by going into second base standing up and drove in the deciding run Sunday as the Tigers defeated the staggering Boston Red Sox 4-2 in 11 innings before a crowd of 29,809 at Fenway Park.

"I'll never do that again, it was a mistake," the Detroit outfielder said. "I was going to take one more step and slide, but he (shortstop Rick Burleson) was right on top of me. His throw hit me right here, on the heel of my hand."

LeFlore wasn't the only one making mistakes. The Tigers were deprived of their right to use a designated hitter because of a "dumb mistake" by Manager Ralph Houk.

Houk listed both Rusty Staub and Alex Johnson as "DH" on the lineup card rather than naming Staub to rightfield as he had intended. When Boston Manager Darrell Johnson protested, the umpires disqualified Johnson and the Tigers were forced to let their pitchers hit.

With one out and the bases loaded in the 11th, Tom Verzer hit a hard grounder to second baseman Doug Griffin, who flipped to Burleson forcing LeFlore. However, Burleson's relay throw to first hit LeFlore, enabling the tie-breaking run to score. Dan Meyer then singled home an insurance run.

"If LeFlore slides, we get two (out), and we're out of the inning," Boston Manager Darrell Johnson said. "It's a shame the ball didn't take his head off."

"It surprised the hell out of me when he didn't slide," Griffin said. "You don't see a play like that very often."

"When I let the ball go, I thought he was going to slide," Burleson said. "If he slides we get the double play."

"It was a great play, the key play," Houk said. "Maybe it was a little dangerous, a gamble, but LeFlore made it work. His job was to break up the double play any way he could — and he did the job."

As for his own goof, Houk said, "I just loused it up." Houk said someone was in his office when he made up the lineup, and he automatically put Staub down as designated hitter, the position he played in the last six games.

"It was a terribly dumb thing for me to do," Houk said. "I've never done anything like that before in my life."

Tom Murphy, who replaced starter Dick Pole in the ninth after the big right-hander had allowed just two runs on six hits and struck out seven, took the loss. Murphy hurt himself with a throwing error on an attempted force in the 11th. Then a passed ball by catcher Carlton Fisk forced Murphy to give LeFlore an intentional walk, setting the stage for the big play at second.

The Tigers posted their sixth victory in the last eight games while taking the weekend series from the Red Sox 3-1.

SAY HELLO TO MARTY!

MARTY SCHERR

Come on in and meet Marty, newest member of the BARTZ TEAM. He's lived in the area for five years and many will recognize him as a former coach in the St. Joseph and Stevensville schools. He has also taught in St. Joe.

We are pleased to have him on our team and hope that all his friends will drop in to renew acquaintances.

Sorry girls, his active wife, Sharon, keeps an eye on him.

Laing Tops Rival For Point Title

Mitchell-Western Beaten

By JACK WALKDEN
Staff Sports Writer

Bruce Laing finally got his revenge in Saturday's Point O' Woods Invitational championship.

Laing teamed with Jim Evashevski, son of former University of Michigan football standout Forest Evashevski, to beat Carl Mitchell and Bill Western 2-and-1 in the championship match of the 17th annual event.

Mitchell had been Laing's biggest rival at the Point, beating him twice in the past five years for the individual club championship. Laing had also lost in the Invitational championship four years ago and it seemed to give him added incentive.

"I suppose it fired me up a little more," Laing said. "But we were lucky. They just played poorly today. We both can play a lot better than we did today."

The match was even going into the 14th hole, but Laing and Evashevski won the next two holes to go two up with three to play. On 14, Laing came in with a par, while the best the Mitchell-Western team could come up with was a bogey.

At 15, Evashevski reached the par-five hole in two and two-putted from 30 feet for a birdie.

Western trimmed the champions' edge to one hole by sinking a 25-foot putt from off the green at 16, but Laing and Evashevski clinched the match at 17 by just making par.

"We didn't play well, but we won, so I guess that's what counts," Laing.

Laing and Evashevski took team play to the fullest measure in the championship match.

"We learned well," Evashevski said. "When one guy was out of the picture on a particular hole, the other guy would come back."

The best example of the team play was at the second and 13th holes. At two, Evashevski hit his second shot off a tree and into the water. But Laing reached the fringe of the green in three and two-putted for his par to keep the match even.

It was Laing who kept the match even at 13. Evashevski hit out of bounds, but Laing kept the match even despite a shot into the pond.

Both Laing and Evashevski, who are cousins, boast golfing backgrounds. Laing, now an insurance officer in Dowagiac, grew up with golf in his blood. His father Bruce Sr., his mother, Barbara, his brother, Jim (a recent Dowagiac high school graduate) and sister, Ann, all play.

Evashevski, whose father was football coach and athletic director at the University of Iowa, also picked the game up early from his father. Evashevski and his brother Frosty are former University of Michigan golfers.

BH Meet Is Topped By Ramirez

Angelito Ramirez won four events in the second annual Benton Harbor Track Coaches meet held Saturday at Filstrip Field.

Ramirez won the 12-under boys long jump (4.34 meters), 100 meter (14.4), 200 meter (32.8) and the 800 meter (3:04.7).

The only triple winner was Cindy Oliver. She won the 13-15 girls long jump (5.15 meters), 200 meter (27.4) and 400 meter (1:08.0).

Double winners in the meet were Kim Edwards in the 12-under girls; Marilyn Ramirez in the 13-15 girls; Alma Jones, Gloria Frazier and Cindy Putnam in the 16-over girls; Duwayne Jude in the 13-15 boys; John Sykora in the 16-18 boys and Howard Kingsley in the 19-over men.

Winning the best ball four-some was the team of Arlene Moore, Marilyn McKinney, Eileen Selin and Carolyn Seowaral. The foursome finished with a 58. Winding up second with a 59 was the team of Corn Mae Linnaberry, Gloria Vanderbeck, Marge Zerbel and Fern Jorgensen.

WMU's Hurley Takes Michigan Am

CHARLEVOIX, Mich. (AP) — For many years, Mike Hurley never could afford to play in the Michigan Amateur golf championship, but when he finally could afford it he played like a million dollars.

Hurley, a 22-year-old Albion resident who was Western Michigan University's No. 1 golfer this spring, fired a blistering two-under-par 70 over the 6,611-yard Belvedere Golf Club on Saturday to win this year's title with a 1-up victory over Rick Vershure, 21, of Pontiac.

"I never could afford to enter the Michigan Amateur before," the new champion said. "It was just a lack of money."

Hurley, who was runner-up in this year's Mid-American Conference tournament, said his expenses included the Michigan Amateur's $35 entry fee plus food and lodging in this thriving northwestern Lower Michigan resort town. He said missing a week's work at his summer job likely cost him an additional $100.

"I carried my own bag to save money during the qualifying and early matches," the mustachioed Hurley said. "The Golf Association of Michigan said they wanted the 16 finalists to use Belvedere caddies for the final matches, so they (the G.A.M.) picked up the tab on that."

Hurley said it was all worth it, however, after savoring the biggest victory of his life.

"The pure thrill of winning it is enough for me," he said.

Hurley and Vershure—a dropout from the University of South Florida—played even golf on the front side of their little match, each winning one hole.

Hurley went 2-up on the back side, however, when Vershure bogeyed the 13th and 14th holes. Vershure got one back with a par 4 on the 18th, as the pair played even the rest of the way.

Vershure looked as if he could force a playoff at the 18th, but he hit his second shot long and drilled his chip shot back a good 18 feet past the pin. He still had a chance to win the hole but his putt hung on the lip and the best he could do was half the hole with a bogey.

"I'd sure like to have that shot on 18 again," the dejected Vershure said. "I was too pumped up and I hit it too far."

Vershure, who waters greens at night at Lake Orion's Indianwood Golf Club so that he can play golf during the day, had nothing but praise for Hurley.

"I'm disappointed I didn't win," the slender 135-pounder said, "but hell, I played good. I played really good, but Mike was solid as a rock. He played just super, and he deserved to win."

Both finalists want to try their hand at pro golf. Hurley said first, however, he would return to WMU for one more semester to complete his degree in business. Vershure said he plans to play in three more amateur tournaments in Michigan this summer before heading for Florida's Space Coast to try his luck on the professional Mini Tour.

"I'll see how I slack up down there," he said, "and then we'll see what happens. I'd like to make the tour."

Hurley earned his shot at his new crown by defeating Bob Proben, 1-up, in a semifinal round Saturday morning. Vershure ousted Flint sales engineer Bert Hogg—a transplanted Scot—3 and 2 in the other semifinal contest.

Both Hurley and Vershure acknowledged that winning the Michigan amateur was almost as much a test of stamina as one of golfing skill. A field of 358 golfers played 72 holes to qualify Tuesday and Wednesday. The 64 who qualified played two rounds of match play a day on Thursday, Friday and Saturday to determine the champion.

"My legs are very heavy," Hurley said. "I'm tired. Too tired. But it was worth it. That's all I can tell you."

Tryout Friday

KALAMAZOO — The Central Scout Bureau, which represents 17 major league teams, will conduct a tryout camp at 9 a.m. Friday, July 2, at Hyman Field on the campus of Western Michigan University.

U.S. All-Stars Beat Japanese

TOKYO (AP) — The U.S. College All-Stars, aided by the strong pitching of Eastern Michigan's Bob Welch, scored their third victory against no defeats Sunday, beating the Japanese All-Stars 3-1.

The game was played before 20,000 spectators and the U.S. needs just one more victory in the seven-game annual U.S.-Japan collegiate baseball championships to clinch the title.

The U.S. All-Stars scored two runs in the second inning on doubles by Jeff Brown of the Air Force Academy and Ronald Blaszyk of Arizona University and a triple by Doug Stokke of the University of Southern California.

The U.S. team added a third run on a solo home run by Brown.

The Japanese All-Stars were limited to one hit by Welch until the seventh inning, but they scored a run in the eighth inning on two doubles.

The fourth game will be played Tuesday in Shizuoka.

Plangger's Falls

Plangger's got just one hit in losing a doubleheader in Aurora (Ill.) Home Savings and Loan — 1-0 and 2-0 — Sunday at Plangger's Park.

Dick Brubaker, no-hit Plangger's in the opener and teammate Bob Sterkel allowed just one hit in the second tilt.

Nick Shushman got the Plangger's hit. The losing pitchers for Plangger's on a pair of six-hitters were Rick Plangger and George Luther.

Plangger's next game will be at home at 7:30 p.m. Thursday against Kalamazoo Vandenberg's.

Flint Rider Wins

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Jay Springsteen, a 19-year-old from Flint, Mich., rode away with first place honors Sunday in the 33rd annual Charity Newsies motorcycle race at the Ohio State Fairgrounds.

It was the first championship for Springsteen, who rode a Harley-Davidson to beat Ken Roberts, a two-time former grand national champion, by three-bike lengths.

The 20-lap race was sponsored by the American Motorcycle Association as the 12th event in its 28-race series. Springsteen takes home a $3,500 prize for the winning effort. Some 90 motorcycle racers competed in the race for a total purse of $21,710.

Finishing third was Steve Morehead of Findlay, Ohio. Defending champion Gary Scott of Springfield, Ohio finished seventh. Steve Freeman of Simpsonville, South Carolina was the winner of the separate 12-lap expert trophy race over a six-mile course.

BH's Steele Signs

Russell Steele of Benton Harbor, an all-LMAC pick this past season, has signed a letter of intent to play basketball for Eastern Montana College, according to coach Elden Kimula.

"This young man has tremendous potential and will help the Eastern Yellowjackets toward retaining the Frontier Conference and NAIA Division II championship titles," declared Kimula.

Steele, a guard, averaged 21 points, nine rebounds and seven assists last season for the Tigers.

Area's Gymnats Place

LUDINGTON — Kathy Campbell, Shawn Griffin and Terry Bohanek all placed for the Gymnats at the Mid-American Beach meet here Sunday.

Campbell was fifth in uneven bars, seventh in vault and sixth in all-around among the 50 participants in the 15-years old and older class.

In the 10 and 11 year old class, Bohanek was tenth in vault, tenth in bars and eighth in all-around, while Griffin was eighth in vault. The 10 and 11 year old class boasted more than 100 participants.

Detroit Boxer Is Tops

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Bernard Mays of Detroit won outstanding boxer honors for the upper four weight divisions, as he took the 139-pound category in finals of the American Athletic Union Junior Olympic Boxing Championships Saturday night. The tournament is for boys aged 14 and 15.

Mays, a runnerup at 125 pounds last year, won by decision over Andre Curry of Washington, D.C.

Outstanding boxer in the lower four weight classes was Marshall Smith of Washington, D.C., who defeated Henry Centenas of Tucson, Ariz., to win the 106-pound category.

For the middle four weight categories, Tony Balazsar of La Puente, Calif., who defeated Darryl Fuller of Jackson, Tenn., at 125 pounds, was named outstanding boxer.

Two other runnersup from 1975 won championships. Bobby Rizo of Pomona, Calif., who was second at 161 pounds last year, defeated Glenn Rodriguez of Honolulu at 112 pounds. Alex Ramos of New York City, second at 132 pounds in 1975, defeated Henry Perez of Tucson, Ariz., at 147 pounds.

Blueberry Festival Opens Wednesday

By TOM RENNER
South Haven Correspondent
SOUTH HAVEN — This community's annual salute to Michigan's world-leading role in the growing of blueberries will be held July 2-5. The seventh annual National Blueberry festival will kickoff with a balloon blastoff from Dyckman park at 9 a.m. July 2. The day is dominated by events for youngsters.

Bozo the Clown will lead the kiddies parade through the central business district at 10 a.m. Other events will include a kite flying contest, a children's art show, pie eating contests and the dirty day games for kids.

A polka party on Phoenix street in the downtown area will begin Saturday's events at 10 a.m. Downtown merchants will stage mini-sidewalk sales throughout the day.

Invitational events Saturday will include a swimming meet and volleyball, baseball and tennis tournaments.

The Van Buren Folk dancers will perform in the downtown area at 2 p.m. Saturday while pony rides will be offered throughout the day. There will also be a flea market in the Methodist church parking lot and an open house at the Liberty Hyde Bailey museum.

A sand castle and sculpture contest will begin on the north beach at 4 p.m. Saturday.

Evening activities will include a rock concert at the National Guard armory at 7 p.m. and a venetian parade of boats on the Black river at dusk.

The South Haven Art league will sponsor its annual clothesline art show Sunday in Johnston park. An ice cream social will be sponsored by the Methodist Men's club near the art show.

Four Advance A Notch At LMC

Four Lake Michigan college administrators have been promoted in rank in keeping with the growing scope and requirements of their jobs at the college, it was announced today by Dr. James L. Lehman, LMC president.

Two assistant deans were advanced to associate deans, and two directors were promoted to assistant deans, effective July 1, as the college prepared itself for a broadened program of community services and an influx of fall students.

Dr. Dorothy Leader, R.N., assistant dean for health sciences, was promoted to associate dean for health sciences. Dr. Leader joined the LMC faculty in 1973. She holds a doctor of philosophy degree from the University of Michigan, a master of arts degree from the University of Illinois, and a bachelor of science degree from New York university.

Arthur Crump, acting assistant dean of students, was advanced to associate dean of students. Crump received his master of arts degree from Western Michigan university and his bachelor of arts degree from Idaho State university. He came to LMC in 1973 as director of student activities.

Margaret Crisnal, director of financial aid and placement, was promoted to assistant dean of students. Miss Crisnal, who also joined the LMC faculty in 1973, received her master of education degree from Kent State university and her bachelor of science degree from

Kenneth Riley, who came to LMC in 1970 as a community services coordinator and later was promoted to director of special projects, was advanced to assistant dean of community services. Riley holds master of arts and bachelor of divinity degrees from Andrews university and a bachelor of science degree from Atlantic Union college. He is a candidate for a doctor of philosophy degree in administration and higher education from Michigan State university.

President Lehman today also announced that, effective July 1, Dr. James Bekkering, acting dean of instruction, Arts and Sciences division, would assume the title of dean of instruction of that division.

Six Bands Coming To Parade

NEW BUFFALO — Six high school marching bands from out-of-state are scheduled to march in the New Buffalo Heritage Days parade on July 18 and will play in competition that evening at New Buffalo high school.

Mrs. William VanMeer, an organizer of the parade, said the evening competition will begin at 7 p.m. at the high school football field.

The six bands are made up of over 1,000 student musicians who will be housed in local schools and churches and be fed in the cafeterias at the high school and west elementary school.

The bands scheduled are from Oregon, Wis.; Carpentersville, Ill.; William, Minn.; Rock Falls, Ill.; Van Nuys, Calif.; and Cold Springs, Minn.

Three trophies are to be awarded based on the bands' performances in competition. Advance tickets for adults are $2. Student tickets are $1 through July 4. All tickets at the gate are $3. Tickets may be purchased by mail from the Heritage Days committee, Box 104, New Buffalo.

Honor Student

SAULT STE. MARIE, MICH. — Sally Jane Linsley, of 403 North street, Hopkins, was named in the dean's list for the term which recently ended at Lake Superior State college, here.

OLD KEELER GROCERY: Doors to Keeler Grocery have closed ending a business of 125 years in village. Early 1900's photo shows store as it appeared way back when. Building was constructed in early 1850's by late William Haven Sr. and relatives. Standing on corner of Territorial road and CR-687, building has changed hands 13 times.

BUILDING TODAY: Thomas Forslund of Paw Paw has purchased old Keeler Grocery and its stock from Elmo Seel. Forslund, who operates Fosters Corner Grocery in Keeler, said he has no future plans for building. Building's appearance seems to have changed relatively little in more than century. (Cliff Stevens photo)

South Haven Couple Dies In Crash Near Ludington

LUDINGTON — A South Haven couple was killed Saturday afternoon in a head-on crash on highway US-10 near here, according to Mason county sheriff deputies.

Herbert K. Dickinson, 70, and his wife Elnore, 58, both of 433 Cherry street, South Haven were pronounced dead the scene with head and internal injuries, according to deputies.

The Dickinsons had been returning to South Haven from the Ludington area where they visited vacationing relatives when the accident occurred about 4:35 p.m.

Both had been longtime residents of South Haven. Dickinson was a retired custodian of the South Haven public school system.

Deputies said the accident occurred near US-31 in Amber township of Mason county. Dickinson was reported to have been passing another car when his auto struck a vehicle driven by Robin D. McFarland, 18, of Scottville. Miss McFarland was listed in serious condition at a Ludington hospital.

The Dickinson car was listed as being westbound and the McFarland auto eastbound. The crash occurred in the eastbound lane, police said.

Double funeral services will be held Wednesday, at 2 p.m., at Calvin funeral home, South Haven, for Mr. and Mrs. Dickinson. Burial will be in Lakeview cemetery.

Mr. Dickinson was born Oct. 20, 1905, in South Haven. He was a member of First United.

Methodist church, a member of Star of the Lake Masonic lodge 188, and a member of Aeacela chapter 211 of Eastern Star. He retired as custodian at Central school in South Haven in 1971.

He is survived by a son, John, of Muskegon.

Mrs. Dickinson was born April 24, 1918, in Burgin township. She was a member of First United Methodist church and a member of Eastern Star. Survivors in addition to John include a sister, Mrs. Beatrice DiMaio, Mission, Kan.; and two brothers, Charles Provost, Grand Junction, and Roger Provost, South Haven.

Friends may call Tuesday from 7 to 9 p.m. at the funeral home where Masonic and Eastern Star services will be held at 8 p.m.

One-Man Picket Line

PETOSKEY, Mich. (AP) — More than 120 steelworkers honored a one-man picket line at the Penn-Dixie Cement Plant today in support of a worker who claims he was unjustly fired. The picket, Mike Olson of Petoskey, said he was fired last week because he suffered a broken wrist during a sporting event last May and has been unable to return to work. The sympathy action by the workers, members of the steelworkers union, has all but halted production at the plant.

Area Residents, Roads Figure Heavily In Traffic Toll

Southwestern Michigan accounted for nearly half of the state's weekend highway death toll of 13.

Two people were killed in a one-car crash on I-94 near Lakeside in Berrien county last night and a third succumbed to injuries suffered in an I-94 smashup on June 13.

Early Saturday, one man was killed in a smashup in Cass county.

In addition to the four from southwestern Michigan accidents, two South Haven people were killed Saturday in a crash near Ludington.

The dead were: Verice Moore, 38, and Jonnie Daniel, 34, both of Grand Rapids, killed in the crash last night.

John Palmore, 80, Muskegon, who died in St. Anthony hospital, Michigan City, Ind., from injuries received in the June 13 crash.

Carl W. Bieneman, 21, Birmingham, killed in the Cass county crash near Diamond lake, Cassopolis.

And Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Dickinson, South Haven, who were killed in a two-car pileup near Ludington.

The deaths bring Berrien county's traffic fatality total to 18 this year. Bieneman's death was the 10th fatality on Cass county roads this year.

Meanwhile, police were still awaiting a report before determining if the death of Keith Hiler, 18, would be ruled a traffic fatality. Hiler, injured in a car-motorcycle accident in Berrien's Benton township June 17, died in a Chicago hospital Thursday.

State police from New Buffalo said the two Grand Rapids men were pronounced dead at the scene last night by Dr. John Valentiejus, deputy Berrien county medical examiner.

Police said Moore was driving the auto when he apparently lost control, striking the culvert around 9:30 p.m.

Palmore was a passenger in an auto that crashed into a ditch on I-94, June 13, near the Union Pier exit. He suffered internal injuries in the accident, police said. The driver of that auto, Elijah Clark, 52, Muskegon, remains hospitalized in serious condition at St. Anthony's hospital.

Other victims killed this weekend on state roads were:

Alexander J. Wilson, 46, of Oak Park, Ill., died Friday in a semitractor and car head-on collision on U.S. 131 in St. Joseph county.

Lewis Paul Omara, 38, of Satine, killed Friday in Washtenaw county when the car he was riding in rolled over.

Steven J. Albert, 13, of Washington, died Saturday, in Stoney Creek Metro Park in Macomb county when his bicycle collided with a car.

Floyd Warner, 34, of Greenville, killed Saturday, when his car ran off a Kent County road.

Cindy Dauphinais, 17, of Marquette, died Saturday, when the four-wheel drive vehicle she was riding in struck a culvert, rolled over and threw her out of the vehicle. The vehicle was cruising alongside Michigan 28 in Alger county.

James Bidelman, 5, of Leslie, died Saturday when he was hit by a car in Ingham county.

Shirley Ann Quick, 17, of Mikado, died Sunday when she was struck by a car in Iosco county.

They Work, Learn In Forests

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — A group of students at the University of Michigan is getting practical experience in pruning, harvesting, millling, reforestation and other logging operations.

At the same time, they are earning extra cash for their weekend labors.

"There's always some work to be done in the forests," said John Carow, a natural resources professor and administrator of two forest properties the university owns — Saginaw Forest and Stinchfield Woods. "It's a good way to provide employment for the students and to teach them skills they are likely to use later in their careers," he added.

Up to 30 natural resources students — male and female — choose to work on the forest properties each year. Many of them later go on to careers in forestry and similar occupations, according to Carow.

This year harvesting is proceeding earlier than usual, because many trees were felled by last March's ice storm. Normally, harvesting takes place in the fall or winter.

According to Carow, it is important to clear felled trees as quickly as possible to protect them from insects and staining. Insect pests pose a danger of infestation to nearby live trees, while staining lowers their value as lumber.

Felled trees are skidded behind a tractor and hauled by truck to the university's sawmill at Stinchfield Woods, where they are processed into rough wood to be sold for lumber or firewood.

Proceeds from the sales are used for forest upkeep and to pay the student loggers.

The forest properties were acquired by the university in the early 1900s. At the time they contained farmland and native Michigan forest stands.

Over the years, natural resource students planted hardwood and pine trees. Carow said, and many of them are now reaching their full maturity.

HEY, YOU GEORGIANS

New York A Mighty Provincial Town

EDITOR'S NOTE — The writer is a native of Macon, Ga., who has survived 18 years in what, he says, is "the largest swamp north of the Okefenokee."

By JULES LOH
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Hey all you fellow Georgians planning to come up here to watch Jimmy Carter, the Pride of Plains, get nominated, here are a few tips from a native son to help ease the culture shock.

You will notice immediately that these people speak with an accent.

They have difficulty with the second person plural, for example, saying "youse" instead of, properly, "you all."

They say pecan wrong. They call dinner lunch and supper dinner — but speak of having dinner parties at supper clubs.

There is no explanation for these provincialisms.

They call breakfast breakfast, but ordering it will be a problem for you. Forget grits, which are unheard of. They eat something called a bagel, which is as hard to describe as it is to chew. Don't send it back, it is supposed to be that hard.

A dantish is not an adjective but a sweet roll.

Do not ask for regular coffee or somebody will put milk and sugar in it.

When you name your poison, do not name rye or what you will get is poison. They call blended whiskey rye. It is not. Stick to bourbon.

Very few restaurants serve ordinary food such as black-eyed peas, okra, collards, butterbeans, spoon bread. They call this fare "soul food."

The subway is not as fearsome as reputed. Many New Yorkers find it peaceful enough to sleep there.

Do not be afraid, either, to ride in taxicabs. A bulletproof barrier between the front and back seat now protects passengers from the driver's philosophy and wit.

Bring your own peanuts. A handful at Yankee Stadium costs 40 cents, which ain't peanuts.

Finally, do not leave New Yorkers about their town's going broke. Some are unconvinced about this, believing that the North shall rise again.

Going Back Today In History

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Monday, June 28th, the 180th day of 1978. There are 188 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1914, the heir to the throne of Austria-Hungary, Archduke Francis Ferdinand, was assassinated at Sarajevo, Bosnia. It was the spark that set off World War I.

On this date: In 1784, the Revolutionary War Battle of Monmouth, N.J., took place. Molly Pitcher's aid to colonial troops made her a heroine in American history.

In 1838, Britain's Queen Victoria was crowned.

In 1919, the Versailles Treaty was signed in France after World War I.

In 1941, guerrilla warfare against the Nazis began in Yugoslavia during World War II.

In 1950, in the Korean War, North Korean soldiers captured the South Korean capital of Seoul.

In 1967, King Hussein of Jordan met with President Lyndon Johnson in Washington to discuss Jordan's plight after the Israeli victory in the Six-Day War.

Ten years ago, U.S. troops began leaving the Dominican Republic in the first step toward dissolving an Inter-American peace force.

Five years ago, The U.S. Supreme Court struck down state aid for parochial schools as unconstitutional.

One year ago: A number of people were killed in Beirut, Lebanon, as fighting between leftists and rightists spread to new parts of the city.

Thought for today: The carnage and suffering which war entails are terrible to contemplate, and constitute an irresistible argument in favor of arbitration — John Lubbock, English astronomer and mathematician, 1803-1865.

Bicentennial footnote: Two hundred years ago today, nearly 20,000 people in New York watched as a member of George Washington's guard, Thomas Hickey, was hanged for trying to poison the general.

Speller Wins

On 'Nonpareil'

WEST HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — While her final foe got caught up in a "maelstrom," 11-year-old Sherri Hearn turned in a "nonpareil" performance to win a spelling bee among contestants from the 13 original states.

Miss Hearn, of Londonderry, N.H., won on the 105th round of the four-hour Noah Webster Bicentennial Spellingdown, held Saturday at an elementary school one block from Webster's birthplace.

Developers Agree To Stop

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Two Michigan land developers have agreed to stop selling lots in their subdivisions until they register, as required by state law. Otto D. Dickinson, who developed Hubbard View Estates in Alcona County, and Gackler Land Co., which developed Gackler's Dunes Lake in Barry County, have signed agreements that would also refund money to anyone who changes his mind about buying land in the subdivisions.

Serving The Nation

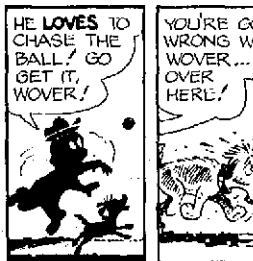

COMPLETES ENLISTMENT
GALLIE — Sp/4 Laurelle Linsmeyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Linsmeyer, Gallie, has returned to her home after being discharged from the Army at Fort Carson, Colo., following completion of a three-year enlistment. At a ceremony which was attended by her mother on her last day of service, she was awarded the Army Commendation Medal for exceptionally meritorious service during the period of July 18, 1975, through July 10, 1976, while serving as a travel clerk in the travel section of the command finance office. The award cited her technical knowledge, professional competence and initiative in carrying out all assignments.

NEWS OF MARKETS

Market's Gear In Neutral

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was little changed today, continuing last week's neutral trend.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks declined fractionally in the early going. Gainers and losers ran about even in the overall tally of New York Stock Exchange-listed issues.

Analysts noted an atmosphere of disappointment and frustration over the market's repeated inability to work its way past the 1,000 level in the Dow.

In the economic news, the government reported today that the nation posted its first trade surplus in five months during May, with exports outpacing imports after seasonal adjustment by $396.6 million.

Bankamerica Corp. was unchanged at 50 1/2 in its first trading on the NYSE. The stock of the California bank holding company, previously traded in the over-the-counter market, was listed at the exchange this morning.

In Friday's mixed market the Dow Jones industrial average lost 3.83 to 999.94.

But gainers outpaced losers by about a 5-4 margin among NYSE-listed issues. The exchange's composite index was unchanged at 55.35.

Big Board volume came to 17.63 million shares. At the American Stock Exchange, the market value index was up .18 at 105.06.

Nursing Home Controls Limited

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The only real way the state can enforce its laws on nursing home care is to shut the home down, according to a state report.

The report says state inspectors consider investigating complaints about nursing home care a "second-priority" and few changes result.

Patients who fear recommitment from nursing home officials are hindered from filing official complaints because all must be signed, the report says.

Even if the state intends to close a home, the home can through various appeals delay that closing for as long as a year and a half.

These are conclusions of a special Senate committee that has been investigating Michigan nursing homes. They are included in a committee report issued today.

Some 38,000 aged and infirm people live in Michigan's 384 licensed nursing homes.

"The only real enforcement tool available to the Department of Public Health in attempting to regulate the nursing home industry is the closing of the home," the report said.

"This option is time-consuming, costly and most important of all, detrimental to the patients in the nursing homes, since their relocation represents a serious threat to their health and safety."

"Only as a last resort should inspectors from the state Department of Health consider investigating complaints about nursing home care to be a 'second-priority' task," the report said.

Though about half the complaints to the department have some basis, the report said, "few substantial changes have occurred as a result of the complaint investigation process."

Many patients, including those who cannot write and have no relatives to help them, cannot even complain about their care, it said. Others do not complain because they fear punishment.

Sen. John Otterbacher, chairman of the special committee, said he would introduce legislation later this week aimed at correcting problems outlined in the report and one issued earlier.

The report also said: "The single most important 'barrier' to nursing home regulation is a 'barrier' act which fails to give the health department ways to punish negligent homes. The report suggests fines, partial licensing, or moratoriums on admission of new patients should be allowed as sanctions."

"The intent of a 1974 law requiring that annual nursing home inspections be unannounced is circumvented by a computer system that lets homes know within two weeks when state inspectors will be visiting."

"The state does not have the money or personnel to audit profits of Michigan's 1,200 nursing home owners, 'a small number' of whom have been identified as organized crime figures or known associates."

"Rules on nursing staff requirements are inadequate."

Season 'Firsts' Are Sold At BH Market Sunday

"First of the season" items poured onto the market yesterday, including the first blueberries, gooseberries, cucumbers and broccoli.

Terry Hutchinson, of Sawyer, was paid $15 for the first 12-qt. flat of blueberries by Season Buyer Ken Yund. Decatur Grower Dwayne Daisy brought two open bushels of cucumbers, and received $12 a bushel from Buyers Ferris Pierson and Paul Miles. The first 1/2-bushels of broccoli were delivered by Cecil Preston, of Eau Claire, and commanded $3 each. Joe Karchunas, of Eau Claire, was paid $4.50 each for 11 8-qt. flats of gooseberries. Buyers were Tony Avery and Steve Churchill.

Sen. John Otterbacher, chairman of the special committee, said he would introduce legislation later this week aimed at correcting problems outlined in the report and one issued earlier.

Henry's Love Life: Very Little Flame

Q: With all these romances coming to light involving the likes of Kennedy, Hays, Wilbur Mills, etc., how come nothing has surfaced on that great lady's man, Henry Kissinger? — J. J., N.Y., N.Y.

A: We have never heard anything worth repeating from any of the women Henry took at a place called Bixby's Warehouse. But don't get all weepy about Denise. She's a philosophical sort and holds no grudge. Anyway, she always expected that Alex would leave her if a better catch came along. It did, and he did.

NO SMOKING: We hear that Tony Randall's co-star in a new TV show will be Rex Harrison's ex-wife, Rachel Roberts. The problem is that mild-mannered Tony is an avenging angel when it comes to smokers. And Rachel is a dedicated pack-a-day puffer. Well, perhaps Rachel's experiences dealing with the insidious Rex will come in handy.

Q: What about Cher and Gregg Allman? Are they still together and has she had her baby yet? — T. P., Hartford, Conn.

A: Cher is at the beach in Malibu awaiting her second child, which should be any minute now. She was desperately ill in Hawaii with a pregnancy-related problem but is better now. She was also very sick with a similar difficulty when she was expecting Chastity. The recent crisis seems to have scared Allman, who flew to her side at a Hawaiian hospital. And by the way, he has gotten himself totally off drugs and is in terrific shape for the first time in years.

Q: Is it true that Raquel Welch insured her bust for a million dollars through Lloyd's of London? — U.C., Oakland, Calif.

A: No, the people at Lloyd's say they read these stories too, but the reports are just publicity gimmicks. They say they read these stories too, but the reports are just publicity gimmicks. They never handled the insurance on Duran's nose, Jayne Mansfield's bust, or Dietrich's legs. They did cover Betty Grable's gams for one million, but that was just during the shooting of one picture. The only legs that concern them at the moment are those of Rudolph Nureyev, who has insured his principal means of support for $400,000.

Q: Is Glenda Jackson ever going to reconcile with her husband? — A. M., Austin, Tex.

A: Glenda, who spent a fortune setting husband Roy Hodges up in various business enterprises, has no intention of patching up her 18-year marriage. Roy, however, candidly admits he misses all the glamour, jet-setting and money that went with being the consort of a reigning movie queen. He now has to grub along in a tiny apartment working as manager of a small theatrical group while Glenda goes on living high. Didn't Hodges get a decent financial settlement? "Only if you think 2 per cent of the gross is decent," he complains. And he gave her the best years of his life, too.

QUESTION YOU NEVER ASKED: Guess who's the best source for good leaks in Washington? We hear it's none other than the Secret Service. Some D.C. reporters have got ten the best scoops of their lives from the S.S. men.

Q: Did Caroline get her mother to agree to let her work at the Olympics in Montreal next month? — E. A., Brooklyn, N.Y.

A: Which of the two famous Carolines do you mean? Caroline Kennedy has been permitted to take a job as an assistant camerawoman for ABC at the Summer Olympics. In addition, Princess Grace is allowing her Caroline to serve as a French interpreter at the games.

out. You might say a case of a lot of smoke but not much fire.

Q: What happened to that girl who was going with Alexander Andreadis before he suddenly upped and married Christina Omasis? — T. Y., Denver, Colo.

A: That as Denise Storis and right now she is in Washington where she works as a waitress

KISSINGER: Nothing worth repeating.

Bill Holds Hope For Home Care

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Homeowners would no longer be penalized with higher property tax assessments for taking care of their houses under a bill approved last week by the state Senate.

The bill, passed 31-1 and returned to the House for agreement in Senate changes, is intended to ease the current problem of increased taxes for persons who keep their homes in good shape.

Backers of the bill said the assessment practice acted as a discouragement toward home care.

Under the bill, a homeowner could spend up to $4,000 on maintenance and repairs without risking an increase in the cash value of his or her house.

Major improvements, however, such as additions, remodeling or extensive upgrading, would result in higher assessments.

The bill would also limit the exemption to up to three years. Then the general maintenance of the house could be assessed.

DROPPED DRILL?

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The 1971 Port Huron tunnel explosion that killed 22 men was apparently touched off when a drilling crew accidentally dropped a heavy drill bit in the tunnel, a secret U.S. Labor Department investigation report says.
